Sinister siblings run down police officer

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Sibling burglars Joseph, 20, and Heather Chiuffo, 21, both of 998 Main St. in Antioch, are being held in the Lake County Jail on $60,000 bond each for the burglary of Bernie's Citgo station on Main St. on July 5 at 1:10 a.m. and the events that followed, notably running down a police officer as they fled the driveway of their apartment building.

"The front glass door of Bernie's had been smashed," said Police Chief Charles Watkins. "The cash register had been pried open and a sum of money was taken."

Through investigation, information had come to Detective Sgt. Craig Somerville that the two were involved with the crime, and at about 1 p.m. he went to the apartment complex to question the pair. "Sgt. Somerville saw both of the offenders in a running vehicle," said Watkins. "Heather, the passenger was attempting to hide a white powdery substance between the seats. Joey was instructed to turn off the motor, but he put it in reverse and floored it almost hitting the police car."

The detective hung onto the side of the car and tried to reach in and turn off the engine himself. The driver put the car back into drive and sped forward throwing Somerville from the car.

Somerville was able to radio a

'This was the first time we've had someone tell us that they drove recklessly on purpose so that we would not pursue them'

Charles Watkins,
Antioch police chief

description of the vehicle and another officer saw it in the Jewel parking lot. "He was speeding around the parking lot and then pulled out and headed west on Rte. 173," said Watkins. "The pursuit was terminated because Chiuffo continued to drive recklessly and it was putting the safety of the community at risk."

At 8 a.m. on July 6, police returned to the apartment complex where they found and arrested both Chiuffos. "Joseph was hiding in a closet under some clothes, and Heather was found hiding in another er bedroom," said Watkins.

Watkins said Joseph was charged with burglary, theft over ($350), possession of burglary tools, reckless conduct, two counts of reckless driving, aggravated battery of a police officer, fleeing and eluding, driving while suspended and disobeying a stop sign. Heather was charged with burglary, theft over and possession of burglary tools. Additionally, Heather had an outstanding warrant for theft over from the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. carrying $25,000 bond.

"We did recover a small amount of crack cocaine and it was sent to the crime lab," said Watkins. "Further charges are pending based on the lab results. We received information that they went to another town and bought crack cocaine after they were at the Citgo."

Watkins noted the reversal of thinking on the part of the offenders. "This was the first time we've had someone tell us that they drove recklessly on purpose so that we would not pursue him. Usually the reckless driving occurs as part of trying to get away."

Somerville is reported to be fine and back on the job. "Sgt. Somerville has some very serious bruising, but it's lucky he wasn't hurt worse," said Watkins.

Neumann threatens lawsuits

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"We've had so many residents call and tell us that they feel the Neumann Homes property should be forest preserves, and it should be known that we have been working with all parties involved," said a village official who asked not to be identified.

In a letter obtained by the Antioch News addressed to Suzi Schmidt, chairman of the Lake County board and to Al Westerman, president of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., Bill and Peter Anest and Kenneth Neumann wrote: "It has come to our attention that certain members of the Lake County Board/Forest Preserves Board have told the Mayor of Antioch that the Forest Preserve District desires to purchase the property. In furtherance of that desire, members of the Forest Preserve Board have contacted Bill and Peter Anest concerning the purchase of the property. Please be advised that the owners of the property, Neumann Homes, Inc. are not interested in selling to the Forest Preserve District."

The letter continued on to say that the Anests and Neumann Homes are in the process of filing additional lawsuits against the Forest Preserve Dist., Lake County and certain members of the county and forest preserve boards based on deposition testimony in the Deercrest case.

A second letter obtained by the Antioch News addressed to village attorney Donald Anderson, attorney John Quinn who represents the Anests with regard to the Neumann Homes litigation wrote: "As a result of recent contacts made directly to my clients, we have been further retained to investigate the possibility of personal liability on the part of two of your (Village of Antioch) Board Members."

The letter contends that the two board members previously voted in favor of the Special Service Area (Northeast Lake Facilities Planning Area Special Service Area - NEFPA SSA) and now are not supporting its implementation. "We suspect that this change in position may be taking place in concert with the actions of some Lake County Board members who have attempted to induce the Anests to breach their contract with Neuman (sic) Homes."

"The trustees shouldn't be faced with the pressure of lawsuits as decisions are being made about Neumann Homes," said the village official.

Village approves pre-treatment ordinance

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The board of directors of the Village of Antioch voted unanimously to approve a pre-treatment ordinance that would allow industries to average the wastes they discharge.

John Boldt with the consulting engineering firm Clark Dietz explained that absolutely no additional lead or other potentially harmful material would be discharged into the system. "The Environmental Protection Agency allows it to be spread across the industries." This would prevent an industry high in one area from having to pay a penalty.

Using lead as an example, Boldt said, "Four industries put lead into the water. The other puts a high concentration of lead in, but it has a very low flow (total discharge) into the system."

Asked and answered, these five industries pay more because they have to go through the pre-treatment process. The fines they face for exceeding a given level is $50-100 per occurrence.

Boldt explained that the village is currently treating as much lead per day as it can: .67 pounds. This led trustee Bob Caulfield to ask, "Does this mean that we couldn't allow another industry that would put lead into the system?"

"We take the lead out, but it ends up in the sludge and then we have to apply it over more farmland," replied Boldt.

Trustee Wayne Foresta concluded, "Passing this resolution would assist our industries without harming our environment."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Say no to Neumann

There is a large gap between what Village of Antioch residents want and what Village officials are doing.

Didn't the officials in Antioch take office to hear and meet the needs of village residents? Four hundred people show up at the Village Planning and Zoning meeting in Antioch to show their disapproval for the huge proposed Neumann Homes development and Village officials say nothing. Three hundred people show up at the village board meeting and the mayor, the leader of our community, is quoted saying that each home in Antioch will be assessed $15-20K if the village does not approve this outrageous development.

Isn't the job of the mayor and village officials to be responsive to the needs of the community and its residents and not developers? Why will each home be assessed $15-20 grand? To pay for legal fees fighting a developer the village has every right to deny building in our community?

Oh is this all based on the property rights of the land owners as stated in the 1992 "Settlement Agreement?" Well, that's simple, the Settlement Agreement as signed by village officials and the property owners IS NOT A LEGAL DOCUMENT.

There are these ordinances that the village set up long ago which require that surrounding property owners be notified of a zoning change and also require that proper public notice and hearing be provided for public comment on the change(s). There, I just saved each village resident $15-20 grand.

In addition, the mayor seems to be very concerned about the financial investment that Neumann Homes has paid out for legal and other fees while trying to push this huge development through. Who cares? The developer took a chance by agreeing to pay the property owners 75K a month for every month the development is not approved. Now they are crying that the village is not approving the development fast enough for them?

Well, the area is zoned R-1—change the plans by not cramming in up to five houses per acre, and bring it to the planning commission for review. The developer is upset that they won't be able to ruin our community and retire down in the Keys of the profits.

Well I say too bad. To date, I have not heard one positive word about this proposal. Not one person has stood up and stated one reason how or why this development would benefit the community. The only entities that will benefit are the property owners and the developers.

This development will not be good for the Village of Antioch. This development will overburden our roads, raise our taxes, tax our services in town and destroy a natural area that would better serve the community if it was preserved as open space.

Village officials need to turn around and serve the community by allowing only sustainable and responsible growth to occur in our town. Don't make the big mistake of trying to appease the builders today; this kind of development will leave behind a much bigger problem for the future.

Cindy Bucci
Antioch

As a resident of the Village of Antioch and a former Planning & Zoning Commission member, I am urging the Village Trustees and Mayor to vote "NO" on the Neumann Homes Development as it is currently presented for the following reasons:

The density granted by the settlement agreement covered the Anest property but NOT the Homer White property. The density on the Homer White property should conform to village ordinance.

The calculation of open space should be reviewed again to ascertain what percentage of the open space contains water at some time of the year.

Some of the land proposed for parks includes 40 acres of sensitive wetland. While this is wonderful open space, it is inappropriate for active recreation. With 1308 homes proposed, there is a need for soccer fields and baseball diamonds. The proposed clubhouse is great for adult recreation, but it is inadequate for youth recreation.

The club center is proposed to be completed in Phase 3. By the end of Phase 3, the project will have 626 homes built and be 3 years in the process before this recreational area is created. The club center needs to be moved to the beginning of Phase 2. If the development is approved, the money for the club center should be put into escrow with the Village at the beginning of Phase 1.

It is obvious that this development will have severe negative impact on our roads. If approved, the developer must be responsible for improving the intersections of Savage Rd./Rte. 173, Rte. 173/Rte. 45, Rte. 45/Miller Rd. and Grass Lake Rd./Savage Rd. and for improvements to all of Savage Rd. and all of Miller Rd.

It is also obvious that this development will have severe negative impacts on our schools. This alone should warrant a "NO" vote. In a previous plan, there were townhomes proposed which generate fewer children.

The developer has many other options for obtaining the density that the settlement agreement allows. A more imaginative land plan should be submitted that includes townhomes, condominiums, empty-nester housing, and clustered housing along with single family homes which would have less negative impact on the community, schools, traffic and the sensitive wetlands and savannas.

I was surprised to see that this development was back in the hearing process as there has been no resolution to the easements for the sewer and water. I feel that until the easements are resolved, voting on this development is premature.

Both the Mayor and Assistant Village Administrator have made statements in the newspapers that the developer has threatened the Village with a multi-million dollar lawsuit. I am dismayed to hear this. If the Mayor and Trustees are being threatened by Neumann Homes, a continuance should be sought and the State's Attorney should be asked to investigate this matter taking testimony from both Neumann Homes and Village officials to ascertain if laws have been broken, prior to any vote. We cannot allow developers to threaten our Village officials and residents.

ACHS big winner in Run for Freedom

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Nearly 1,200 runners and walkers registered to participate in the seventh annual Run for Freedom sponsored by the State Bank of The Lakes, increasing participation by about 200 over last year and making Antioch Community High School the big winner.

Proceeds in the amount of $5,000 collected from the entry fees will be donated to the high school to be used to update and repair its track and field equipment. Roger Mander-scheid, executive vice president for the bank and race director said, "The money we raise through the run stays local by benefiting causes that our community cares about."

Of the runners, Mike Egle, 39, of Des Plaines, was the first place male winner with a time of 15:44. This was a second win for Egle who finished first in 1999 with a time of 16:11. Lorraine Masuoka, 37, of Great Lakes, Ill. was the first place winner with a time of 17:42.

Both winners received a plaque and four tickets to a Chicago Cubs home game.

"We draw runners and walkers from the surrounding area as well as past residents who have moved away and return for the holiday," said Mary Lou Toomey, one of the run's organizers and marketing representative for the bank. "Elite runners come further, many from the Chicago suburbs. We're at the point now where we are sophisticated enough to attract serious runners, but small enough to please the recreational runners and families that just want to enter for the fun of it."

Runners from Antioch placed in a majority of the age group categories for both males and females. Ken Karagiorgas, 10, placed second. Drew Petkus, 17, placed second. Matt Petkus, 20, placed third. Dan Crooker, 29, placed first. Mitch Poss, 37, placed third. Lew Bischoffer, 42, placed first. David Bradley, 45, placed first. Ray Cziczko, 55, placed third. Helmut Stahnke, 67, placed third. Frank Ukleja, 78, placed third.

Katrina Holm, 10, placed third. Maegan Petkus, 14, placed third. Lynda Zarnstorff, 28, placed third. Michele Poss, 34, placed first. Carol Damron, 46, placed second. Erika Stahnke, 61, placed first. Nancy Rentner, 66, placed second. Trudy Anderson, 65, placed third.

A complete listing of the results is posted at the bank, and on the bank's web site at www.thisisyour-bank.com.

Coal adds heat to war on drugs

Antioch gets crime stopping dog

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

A 1-year-old purebred black German shepherd from Hungary named Coal will be a member of the Antioch Police Dept. and is expected to heat things up for criminals attempting to bring drugs into the village.

The board of directors of the Village of Antioch unanimously approved Police Chief Charles Watkins request to bring Coal aboard. The dog has just begun his "basic" training and will officially be on duty in about two months. "He's being trained in basic drug identification: grass, coke, crack and heroin plus one or two vanity drugs," said Watkins. "Additionally, we want him to have training in gunpowder residue."

The money for the dog and his training $11,475 in the first year and about $4,575 subsequently will come from a drug seizure account and a new DUI account. The money from these accounts is earmarked an expense like this that will help the department investigate and prevent drug related crimes.

Officer Geoffrey Gutschow will be partnered with Coal. "After about four weeks of initial training (for both the dog and the officer) the dog will start coming home with him," said Watkins.

At the board meeting Mayor Taso Maravelas asked, "Will the dog work 9 to 5 or 24-hour shifts?"

Watkins said the dog would be available for all emergencies, but the handler currently works the afternoon shift.

Watkins said the dog is a very friendly, alert, beautiful dog. "We'll have him trained to be mildly aggressive," said Watkins. "We want him to be accessible to the public, but still able to do the job." He added that different communities require a different degrees of aggressiveness, and those with the most aggressive dogs have the most liability.

Once Coal has been trained to the "basic" level and has had an opportunity to hone his skills in the field, he will go back for training in explosives. At the board meeting, Watkins said there had been four bomb threats in the last year alone.

Later Watkins added, "The dog will help us with building searches. Some of the industrial buildings are huge and that makes them hard to search. Also, there have been times in the past when we've had to wait two hours (to be able to get one of the dogs through the Lake County Sheriff's Dept.)."

During the meeting and in subsequent interviews Watkins said both the high school and grade schools are in favor of having a dog on the police force that would be available to them for use at the schools. "We want to use the dog as much for gunpowder as for drugs," said Watkins. "With all of the problems with shootings in schools, we want to make sure problems don't develop here."

At the board meeting trustee Scott Pierce said, "I'm in favor of the dog and support zero tolerance (mentioned with reference to schools and police department policy), but I want to be sure that the public knows that the dog won't be used indiscriminately." Watkins replied, "Our goal is to stop drugs from coming into town. Probable cause would be established before the dog is brought in."

Silent Angels speak up for disability

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Listed in the win column for many of the Fourth of July competitions and events held in Antioch were the Silent Angels begging the question: Who are they?

The Silent Angels is a non-profit organization established just this past February to raise awareness and money to research a treatment of a devastating neurological disease called Rett's Syndrome named for the scientist Andreas Rett who discovered the chromosomal mutation.

The organization's founder Karin Johnson, whose four-year old daughter suffers from the disease said, "This syndrome affects one in 10,000 live female births. It's a mutation of the X chromosome. Males with this mutation usually don't survive birth, and if they do they generally don't see a first birthday."

Johnson described the horrific symptoms: "The girls develop normally for the first 6-18 months of their lives, and then they quit making their milestones. If they've learned to talk, they lose their speech. Then they lose the purposeful use of their hands and arms. If they've learned to walk, they lose that skill too." Independence Day for them would be learning how to halt or reverse these symptoms for those who suffer from them.

The chromosome spontaneously mutates. "We can't tell if this is congenital or what causes it," said

'This syndrome affects one in 10,000 live female births'

Karin Johnson
Silent Angels founder

Johnson. "We've made some strides in the last two and one-half years, because they have figured out exactly where the mutation occurs."

Of her own daughter, Johnson said that cognitively she understands what's going on around her and that while she can make noises and laugh, she cannot form words. She holds onto the hope that "we can come up with something by the age of 10-years-old."

Johnson said that she's not exactly sure what the relationship is, but support group newsletters list obituaries with clusters between the ages of 1-10 years old and then again after 20 years old. "A couple of Rett girls have lived longer, but their quality of life wasn't anything."

The Silent Angels took first place in women's tug-o-war. Zach Ogle, 27, won the 3-point shoot out. Pat Larson took second place for her traditional apple pie, and Nancy Johnson took second place for her Dutch apple pie.

The men's tug-o-war team came in second place. Brother and sister team Jeremy and Jennifer Bergstrom won the sack race. Both Johnson and Kim Beverly were named Leech Queens.

"We entered all of these things to get our name out there and raise public awareness," said Johnson. "All of the money we raise goes to help fund research. We need a tomorrow, and without research there is no tomorrow."

Rev up for racing, letter writing

Antioch True Value customers are invited to experience the adrenaline rush of being locked in a race against time when True Value Motorsports Experience makes a pit stop at the hardware store at 488 Orchard on July 15 from 11 a.m.-3 p.m.

The 40-by-70-foot interactive display has made stops around the country since the Daytona 500 in February, and its next stop is Antioch. On board, there are numerous hands-on activities that provides those who choose to participate the opportunity to experience the world of racing.

The Pit Crew Challenge features Bobby Labonte's True Value IROC race car, and pits fans in a race against the clock to change a tire as if they were part of the pit crew.

"Racing is a lot like running a hardware store," said Stan Liver-more, owner of Antioch True Value. "Being the best at either one takes a combination of experience, knowledge and the right tools."

Speaking of the right tools, if you have a pen or pencil you have the right tools to help with a letter-writing campaign to benefit the developmentally disabled.

WINGS (Widening Integration North Growth Services), a parent advocacy organization for the developmentally disabled, will be hosting a letter-writing campaign on July 25 at 7 p.m. in the basement of St. Peter's Church at 557 W. Lake St.

The letters will be written to legislative officials concerning the serious need for additional funding for services for special needs adults, 21 and older, in Lake County. They will confirm to state officials the need for programs and to seek support of a governmental proposal that WINGS will introduce to the Illinois Legislature in late August.

Participation is important to secure funding for these necessary services.

For more information, contact WINGS at P.O. Box 4196, Antioch, IL 60002, or call Joyce at 223-9838.

Special Delivery-Postcards now in season

Most folks take vacations to get away from friends and relatives back home; so why is there an obligation to send postcards to these same people? Is it just a sick little way of rubbing it in our face that they are off visiting some exotic location, why we are stuck behind in our everyday dull life with the added duties of taking care of their dog, their plants, their lawn and their mail?

Usually right after checking into their hotel, vacationers purchase little bits of cardboard featuring glorious sunsets, swaying palms or swimming dolphins at the hotel gift shop. Then the little plastic bag, embellished with the hotel logo, sits on the nightstand between the two beds for the duration of the trip. As the vacation comes to an end, the postcards are quickly filled out and mailed

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

with the hopes that they will reach the mailboxes back home before the vacationers themselves return, swearing up and down they mailed the cards the first day out—sure.

For the more self-disciplined vacationer, the postcards are filled out immediately but never get mailed because of the last of 22 cent stamps. Now, we are of the society that will pay $6.75 for a drink containing very little alcohol and a colorful paper umbrella, yet the thought of putting a 34 cent stamp on a 22 cent postcard, is just way too frivolous.

The sheer talent it takes to write anything but the most cryptic message in the space provided is in itself a feat. And half the time we get these cards in the mail and can't read whom they are from because the post office slaps that little bar code strip on the bottom of the card and covers up the signature. Postcards always contain glowing tidbits like: having a wonderful time, this place is great, and the ever popular—"we wish you were here"—yea right.

When what you really want to say is: hubby is a jerk, the kids are driving me nuts and I really just want to hop the next flight out of here. It seems that the only vacation that doesn't require the "postcard" duty is camping. On page three of the Camping Etiquette

Handbook it specifically states "under no way, shape, or form, are campers obligated to remain in touch with folks back home via postcards." This is merely because Astro turf and tarps aren't very photogenic.

So, for all you vacationers out there who feel the need to stick it in our face that you are witnessing the sunrise over the Grand Canyon or whale watching in Hawaii—don't worry, we will be sure and ooh and aah over your postcard when it arrives and then hang it on the refrigerator with those gaudy magnets you got us from last years destination.

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle."

Readers with information for "Jingle from Pringle" should call Lynn Pringle at 395-6364.

DUI

Robert A. Martinez, 30, of 2114 Enoch in Zion, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol and driving while suspended on July 8 at 4:02 a.m. at the intersection of Main St. and North Ave.

Police saw a vehicle approach the intersection of Main St. and North Ave. with no headlights in the darkness. When the officer told Martinez of the reason for the stop, Martinez "slurred" a response to the officer. It was then that the officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage.

Martinez was unable to remove his license and proof of insurance from his wallet and asked the officer to do so. The officer requested he exit the vehicle for field sobriety testing with him failing all testing. His identifiers were checked through LEADS/NCIC and came back with him having a suspended driver's license.

He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he agreed to chemical testing resulting in .305 blood alcohol concentration. He was issued citations for DUI, no lights when required, driving while suspended and driving with a blood alcohol concentration over .08.

Martinez was released on cash bond pending his Aug. 14 court date.

Kickin' it!

One of the renown and more popular youth soccer camps is set to make an appearance the week of July 16-20 from 2-5 p.m. at Dymond Field in Libertyville.

The Alex Mihalioviics 'Soccer Made in America' Camp will commence for boys and girls ages 5-and-older.

The 'Soccer Made in America' Camp has been going strong since 1984, drawing anywhere from 20-40 campers at its various locations throughout the summer months. On average, the ratio of instructor to camper is 10 to one.

"Why the camp has been successful is because we have a really strong professional coaching staff," said Mihalioviics, who played professionally in Washington D.C., Florida and San Diego. "We really work on developing skills, body mechanics and applying creativity. Our philosophy has been the same since 1984, another reason kids like the camp. We're unique in that way."

Campers can register anytime by calling (630) 257-6900. Sign-ups are also taken by showing up the first day of camp.

The cost is $93 for the first family member, $79 for the second and $49 for a third family member interested in signing up. Camps are divided by ability and age.

The camp includes instruction, practice games and an awards ceremony at the conclusion of the camp. There will also be various giveaways, games, awards and contests, including a Coca-Cola Shoot-out contest. Campers receive T-shirts and certificates upon conclusion of the camp. Registration can be taken care of by calling (630) 257-6900 or at the first day of camp.

Mihalioviics also mentioned that there will be a reunion honoring Chicago's championship soccer teams of the past, including the Sting, Power and the 2000 Fire, which captured the Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup.

Ceremonies will take place at half-time of the Fire-Dallas Burn game, which will kick-off at 7 p.m.

The Chicago White Sox Training Centers are ongoing throughout the summer, making several visits to area locations. Next up will be two Training Centers the week of July 16-20, one at Betty Russell Park in Gurnee and the other at Jaycee Park in Grayslake. These centers, or camps, are for kids ages 7-14 from 1-4:30 p.m. The cost is $179.

And, for the first year, the Sox are also offering a Training Center for fastpitch softball. This center will also take place the week of July 16-20 for girls ages 7-17 at Betty Russell Park, located off of O'Plaine Rd. in Gurnee, also from 1-4:30 p.m.

The cost of this center is also $179, which includes games and instruction. Various high school and collegiate coaches, as well as players and guest appearances by former professional players, will be on hand.

Both the baseball and softball training centers award campers with certificates upon completion of the camp, along with a Silver and Black Prize Pack, which includes a hat, bat bag, six tickets to a Sox game, and T-shirts.

Robinson Charitable Golf Outing aims at 'giving back'

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

The Chicago Bears' Marcus Robinson has already proven he can catch a pass with the best of them.

Now the All-Pro wide receiver is ready to catch something else: the attention of the community.

And his first annual Marcus Robinson Charitable Golf Outing was a pretty good place to start.

"This all started when a couple of guys approached me; they said I should do something for the community," said Robinson prior to the event, held at Midlane Resort in Wadsworth July 6.

"It (the outing) brings a nice mixture of people. It's a great way to get to know a lot of the people in the community."

Of the 30 celebrities participating, many of them were, of course, current Bear players such as James Allen, Marlon Barnes, Macey Brooks, Walt Harris and Tony Parrish, to name a few.

A host of former Bears were also on hand for the inaugural gala, like former All-Pro wideout Wendell Davis, who played from 1988-93.

"I know Francie (Portrey) and Marcus pretty well," said Davis, now working for Integrative Marketing Solutions in Chicago. "I play in a lot of these events but this one's is special because it involves the Bears and it's for a great cause. Plus, I got to bring my boss."

Steven Hunter, a former DePaul standout and first-round draft pick of the Orlando Magic in last month's draft, along with the Bulls' Ron Mercer and 1896 Super Bowl players Jim Morrissey and Thomas Sander, also made the trip to Midlane.

"It was an awesome event - we were extremely pleased with it being sold out for only its first year," said Portrey, the Director of Sports Marketing at Cubby Bear North in Lincolnshire and the former Public Relations Director for the Bears. Portrey, Robinson and his wife Keyomi were the driving forces in coordinating the event.

Speaking of causes, proceeds from the outing benefited organizations such as Children's Brittle Bone Foundation, The Dream Center and Uhlich Children's Home.

The outing also had special meaning for Buffalo Grove's Beth Newkirk, whose son Steven passed away almost two years ago due to complications from neuroblastoma, an aggressive form of pediatric cancer. He was eight. Hence, funds raised also benefited the Funds for Steven Pediatric Cancer Fund.

"I think it's terrific," said Newkirk, who was serving as a volunteer. "It's a wonderful event that brings a lot of celebrities and people from the community together. Just to be able to help out is an honor."

Portrey said the event raised over $30,000.

Following a barbecue, one of the crowning highlights of the day took place when Robinson and Keyomi released a collection of balloons with wishes from the Make-A-Wish Foundation attached to each.

"Wishes were purchased for $25 each," said Portrey. "Also attached to the wish was a card for whoever finds the balloon requesting their address and a donation."

Several gimmicks related to Robinson's number (88) accompanied the golf, such as using an 8-iron on one of the par-3s.

On the 18th hole, all participants donated a golf ball. The basket was then auctioned off at the awards dinners that followed.

Numerous collectibles were also auctioned off during the awards dinner, like a limited edition autographed helmet by Rookie of The Year Brian Urlacher, weekend getaways, tours of Halas Hall, and a new commemorative football honoring the late Walter Payton.

Results from the outing have already prompted plans for a second event, also to be held at Midlane next summer.

A second annual Celebrity Serve as well as a Black Tie event are also in the works.

Interested in participating in one of these events, please call Portrey at 362-1991 for further details.

"Marcus (and his wife) realize it's their turn to give back a little," said Portrey. Mission accomplished.

Lake Villa hosting AABC series

Lake Villa Baseball Field off of Grass Lake Rd. is once again hosting the 2001 10-year-old American Amateur Baseball Congress (AABC) Willie Mays State Championship.

The home run derby along with first-round action began on July 11.

On the line is a berth to the four-state regionals, to be held in Michigan. Winners from the regionals would then travel to the AABC World Series in Mississippi July 26-29.

This year's State Championship Tournament will feature the top-10 teams in the state converging on Lake Villa in a 'double elimination' tournament. This is the best-of-the-best selected from all areas of Illinois vying for the Regional berth.

"AABC Baseball is one of the largest organizations nationwide and growing," says Lake Villa Lightning coach and tournament director Rich Coles.

AABC Baseball plays with all the rules of high school ball, lead-offs, balks, and drop third strikes.

"A lot of kidding goes on between the different baseball organizations but we reserve the right to refer to ours as real old fashion baseball," added Coles.

This year's entries includes teams representing Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. The Lake Villa Tigers talented 10-year-old Travelers, managed by Don Bergstrom, will be the hometown favorites. This team has played real competitive ball all year long with 39 games under its belt. The Tigers placed third in the 'Lake in the Hills Summer Shoot-Out.'

Other teams in the State Tournament include clubs from Vernon Hills, Wauconda, Lake In The Hills, Springfield, two teams from Rockford, and three teams from Southern Illinois.

"Our traveling teams have done well in the past including 4 State Championships," says Coles. "The best finish ever was second in Regionals in 1997. So far, that's the farthest a team from the local area has gone. In fact, we were one out away from the World Series in Puerto Rico."

The ceremonial first pitch was thrown by Ray McKoski, the current Judge and the former Chief Judge for Lake and McHenry Counties. Judge McKoski has been a continuous supporter of Lake Villa baseball.

"He has contributed at each one of our fundraisers," said Coles. "He is always interested in supporting programs that create a productive environment for the kids and we are honored to have him."

Wednesday's line-up included three games at 1 p.m. and two at 3 p.m. Dinner was provided by Brother's Ribs. Then, Tim Nolan from Lake Villa's Pro-Cut Hitting Academy will be featured. Nolan is also a scout with the Phillies and conducts batting instruction to the Professional Baseball Teams, colleges and endless baseball groups nationwide. Nolan also had a 'Fastest Thrower' contest later Wednesday evening, along with the home run derby. Each state qualifying team had two of its top sluggers competing.

Most games July 12 and 13 will be at 10 a.m., 1 and 3 p.m. The title game is slated for 1 p.m. on July 14.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Show you care

You need to attend the Village Board meeting on Monday, July 16, at 7 p.m. at the Antioch Community High School. We need to show the village board we do care about the development of 1,308 homes.

This development will affect all of us in and around the area. The impact it will have on our schools, traffic congestion, public safety, churches, sporting activities, etc. will definitely put a strain on Antioch and surrounding communities.

We lose either way; we face a potential lawsuit, or our taxes increase due to the impact this development will have on our community.

We are not against Neumann Homes development, but against granting variances to existing codes and ordinances that are currently in place. This developer has been denied twice by planning and zoning. The village is not obligated to grant the developer variances.

If you don't take this opportunity to let the village board know your opinion this development, they will assume you do not care. Call your village trustees to let them know you do care, and come to the meeting on Monday, July 16 to see how they vote.

Dr. Lee M. Tisa, Podiatrist

NEW ADVANCES IN BUNION TREATMENT NOW AVAILABLE IN LAKE COUNTY

Over the last 2 years I have been performing a new surgical technique for the permanent correction of bunion foot deformities. The technique is based on Swiss bone fixation principal, which took over 40 years to develop and perfect in Europe. The advantages of this new procedure are many: 1) Eliminates the need for cast immobilization after surgery; 2) May be done on an out-patient basis, which eliminates costly hospitalization; 3) Enables the patient to resume normal shoe gear in 3 weeks, where other procedures usually take 8 to 12 weeks; 4) Immediate mobility after surgery without the use of crutches, walkers or cane. Many patients have this procedure performed on a Friday and return to work on Monday, however this is limited to those patients who do not stand a great deal while at work. Utilizing the Swiss technique, the bunion deformity is corrected by repositioning the bone. The bone is then fixated in the proper position. The patient may exercise the joint immediately, which promotes faster healing and alleviates the usual joint stiffness normally associated with bunion surgery. If you are suffering from painful bunions, please feel free to contact Dr. Lee M. Tisa for a no cost consultation to discuss your condition and your treatment options.

ACHS summer baseball braces for state tourney

By JOE PRUSKI
Correspondent

The Antioch Sequoia summer league baseball team will be heading into the summer league tournament as a sixth-seed due to their strong play during the season.

Aside from the tournament games which begin July 16, Antioch has compiled a record of 13-5 during the summer. On July 9, the Sequoia defeated Grant 3-2 behind a strong showing on the mound from junior Scott Coles, who went five innings. Senior Shawn Schuler came on in relief, allowing no runs in the final two frames.

Head coach Paul Petty believes that with experience gained, his club has improved since the end of the spring season.

The Sequoia will return the same team as last year, with the exception of the graduated Justin Kent and Jeff Petersen.

"We're the same team," said Petty. "There are some new incoming guys we're taking a look at."

With Chris Malec and Schuler returning as Antioch's No. 1 and 2 pitchers, the team is looking for a third to complete the rotation.

"We're still searching for a No. 3 starter," said Petty.

As of now, players who have received time on the mound include Malec, Schuler, Coles, Brad Hoogerhyde, Chris Kocinski and Ryan Callanan.

Antioch will open up the first round of the tournament hosting Prairie Ridge at 5 p.m. July 16.

Petty believes that the tournament will mark the start of the new season for his grown up ball club.

"I tell the kids that this is the first game of next year," said Petty. "I try to assemble what you think will be the plan for next year."

Assembling a surefire lineup can be a tough job in summer league baseball due to the fact that other leagues can take up some player's time.

"We've had some kids playing legion level so they've been spotting with us one or two days a week," said Petty.

A win in the opening round would put Antioch in position to play either Wauconda or Libertyville in round 2.

LAKE AND LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS

July 13-19, 2001

'The poor you will always have with you, and you can help them anytime you want.'
— Mark 14:06

By Jeff Zachary
Staff Reporter

The spirit of loving one's neighbors that appears to be prevalent among many people in the greater Round Lake area and Lake County is spreading all the way to the southern tip of India, and to some of the poorest children in the world.

For I was hungry and you gave me something to eat. I was thirsty and you gave me something to drink.—Matthew 25:35

The Rev. Tom Curry of the Round Lake Community Church had a vision in 1997 to start an orphanage in India after visiting a small village there on an evangelical mission.

He was especially saddened and moved with the plight of many hungry and thirsty children destined to live in the dirty and dusty streets with little or no education, food, clothing or health care.

Religion that God our father accepts as pure and faultless is this: to look after orphans and widows in their distress.—James 1:27

Spreading wealth around the world

In the State of Tamil Nadu, the Rev. Curry met a local Indian pastor, the Rev. Phil Johnson, who expressed his desire to have a home for these suffering boys and girls. Johnson communicated a willingness to commit all of his time and energy to the establishment and administration of such a home.

When the Rev. Curry returned from India, he said, "I was overwhelmed with the vision of building a home for these forgotten children."

He organized a group called the "Friends of Hope" and by Jan. 1, 1999, over $55,000 had been raised to purchase five acres of snake-infested farm land, which was cleared, and a dormitory was built to provide for the needs of 53 destitute children. What had just been a vision, "Hope Children's Home," was now a reality.

Each man should give what he has decided in his heart to give, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver.—2 Corinthians 9:07

"Part of me wants to give everything I have to everyone I meet," said the Rev. Curry as he described the poverty of the children living in India. "We give the children fish and chicken to eat, water to drink, and vitamins to take. It is amazing what chewable vitamins do for the health of the children."

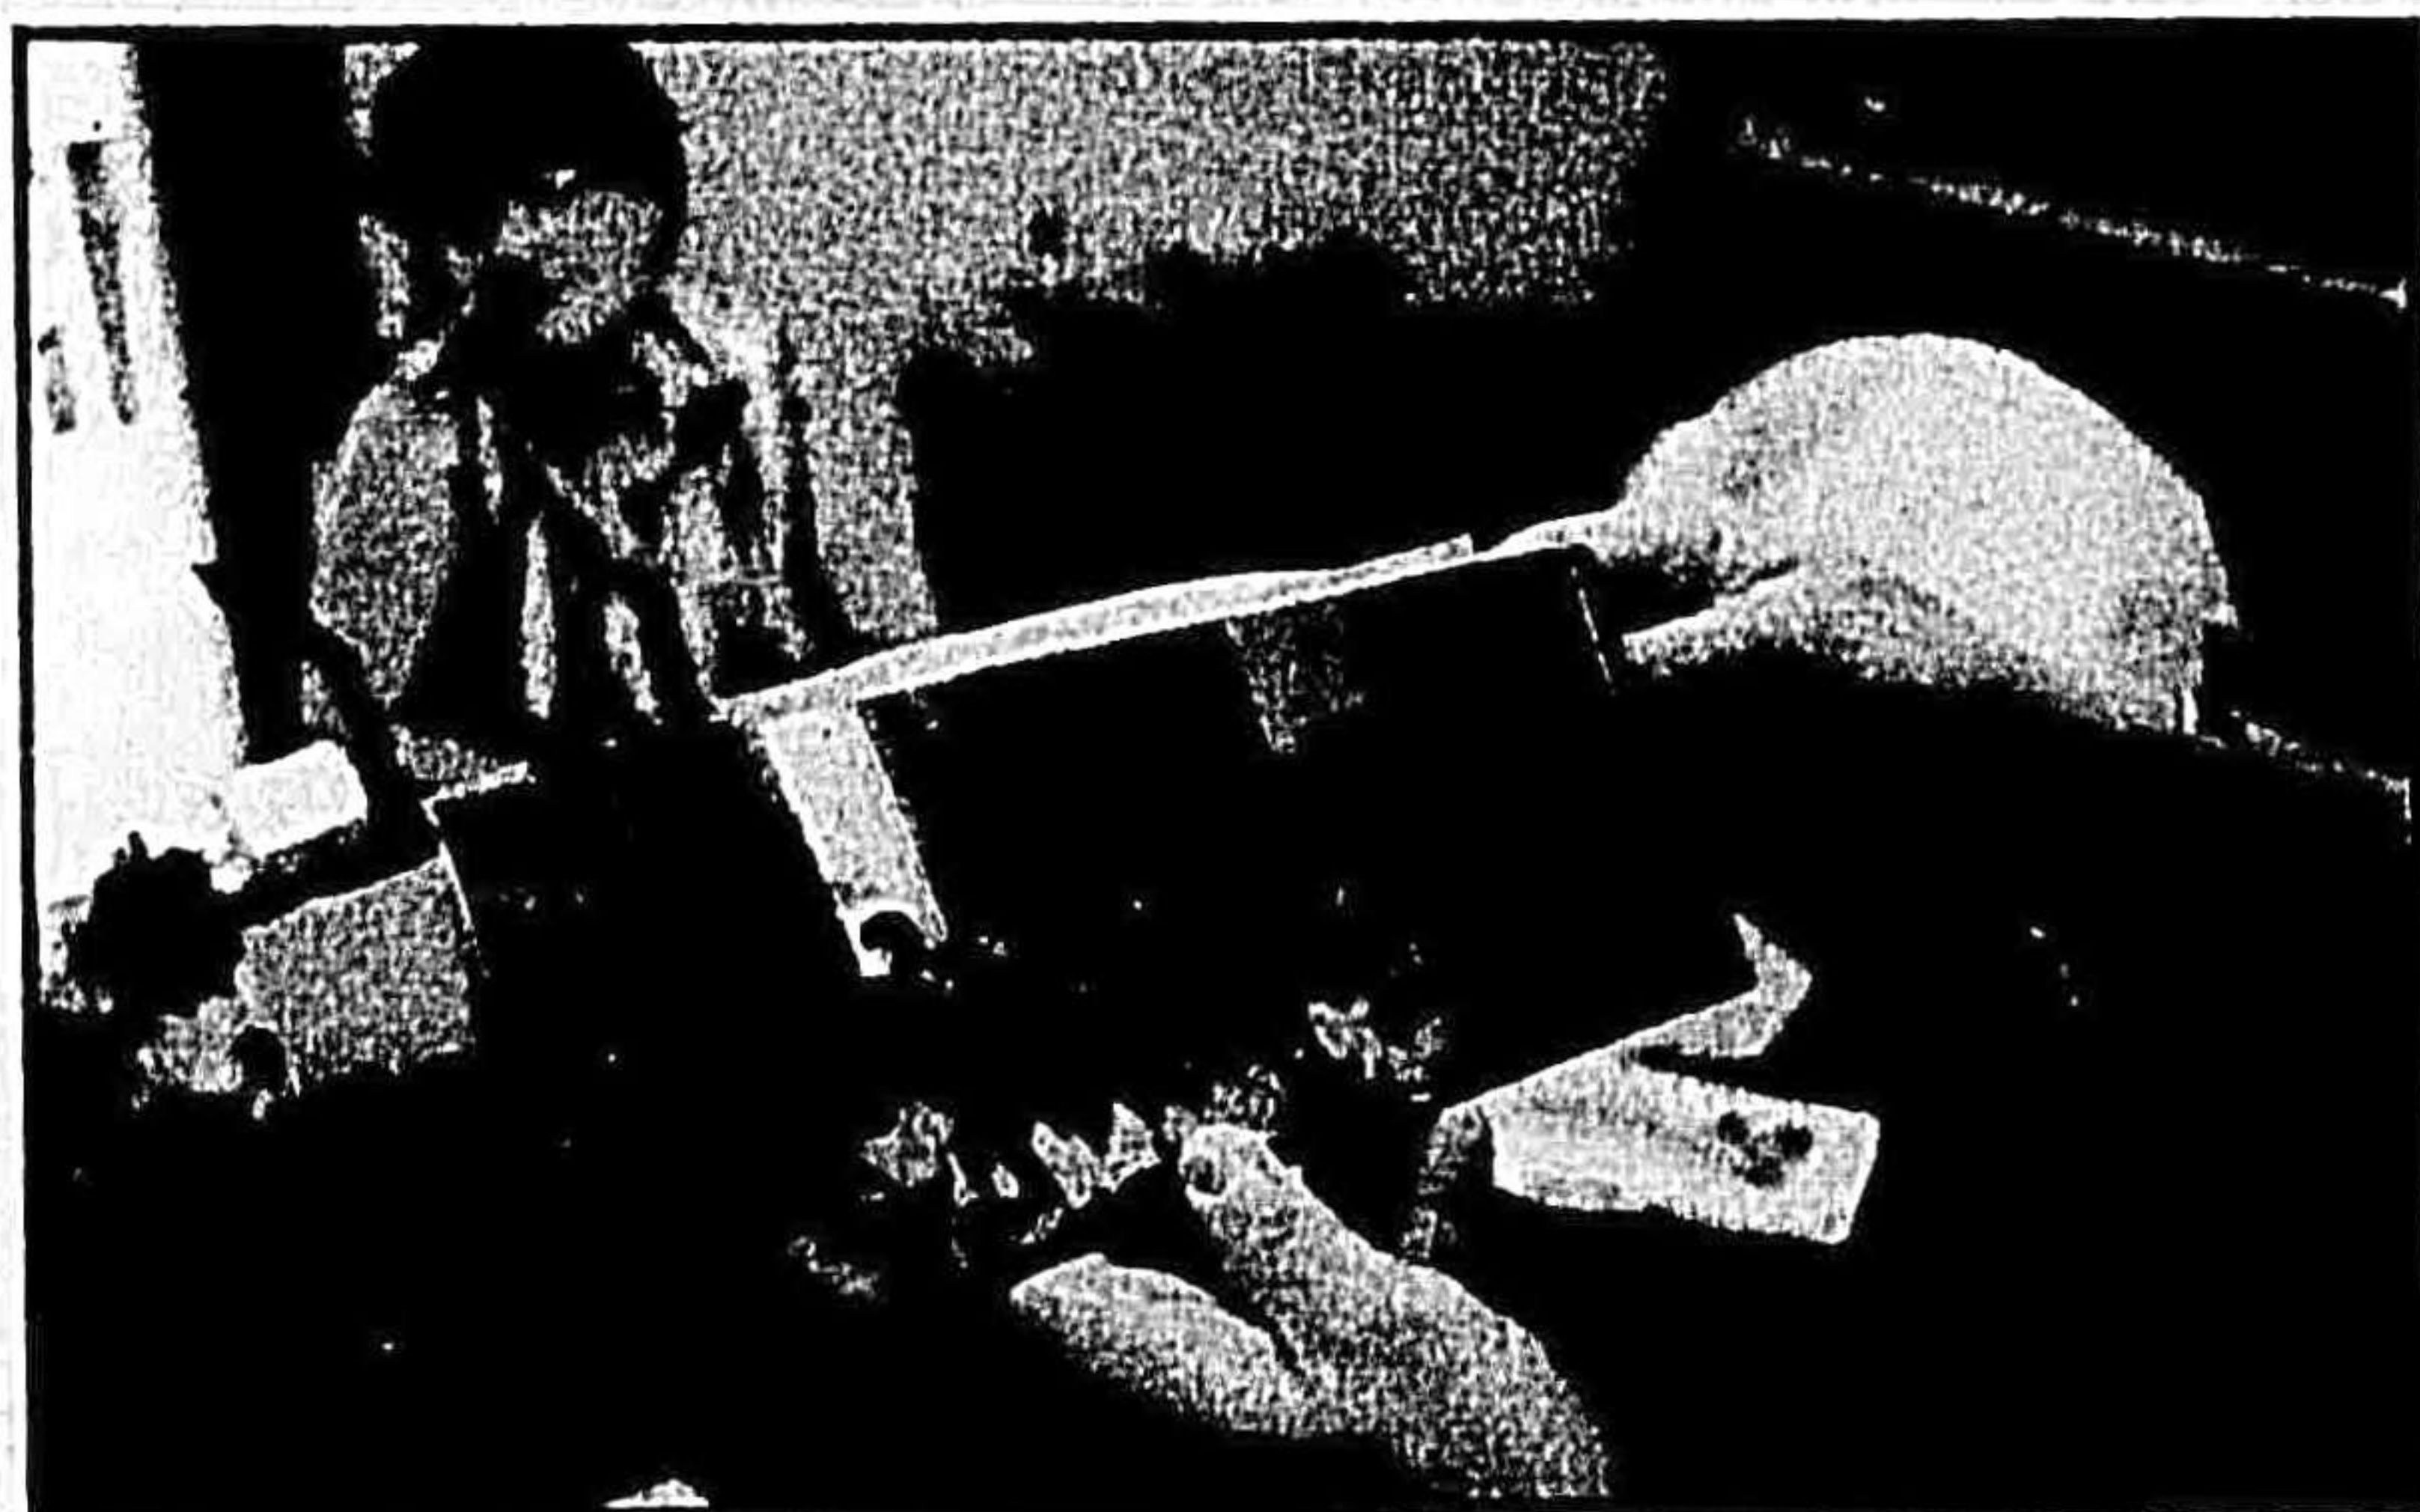

According to the Rev. Curry, the orphanage is being sponsored by people from all over Lake County including Gurnee, Ingleside, Hainesville, Round Lake Park, Round Lake Heights, Round Lake Beach and the Village of Round Lake.

The Rev. Kerry Doyal of Lake Region Bible Church in Round Lake, who has also paid a visit to the home, said, "The youth group at our church is sponsoring a child at the home and we are very proud of them."

Carol Knigge from Round Lake Beach said that she had to put aside her fear of snakes (there are 244 different species in India) before traveling to visit the children.

"The supervision at the home is well regimented. They have specific times for prayer, studying, eating, working, playing and resting, which makes for a well-run home," she said.

See a play and take a hike

The Chicago Botanic Garden's "Theater in the Garden" series debuts this summer with theater-hiking productions by Equity Library Theatre Chicago. Performances include "A Midsummer's Night Dream" on July 14 and 15 and "Robyn Hood of Barnsdale Wood" on August 18 and 19.

The two-hour performances on Saturdays and Sundays begin at 1 p.m. at the Goose Sculpture, south of the Gateway Center, with subsequent scenes taking place throughout the garden.

"A Midsummer Night's Dream" by William Shakespeare is one of the bard's most popular and performed plays. Gregory Werstler directs a cast of professional as well as four young actors between the ages of 8 and 12 who play the four fairies. This is an uproarious comedy of mistaken identities, fairies and elves, kings and commoners, mismatched pairs of lovers, ending with the famous play within the play, "Pyramus and Thisby."

One of the easiest of Shakespeare's plays for audiences to enjoy and understand, "A Midsummer Night's Dream" is perfect for the outdoor presentations.

Written by Scott Lynch-Giddings and directed by Frank Merle, "Robyn Hood of Barnsdale Wood" invites audiences to re-experience the adventure and romance of England's greatest legend. The familiar characters are all there—valiant Robyn Hood, brave and beautiful Maid Marian, rascally Friar Tuck, evil Sheriff of Nottingham and more. They are brought to life in the high Shakespeare style of Elizabethan drama, complete with songs and sword fights, bawdy comedy and elegant verse.

Equity Library Theatre Chicago is a not-for-profit theater company founded in 1952. For more information on the company log on to www.eltchicago.org or call (773) 743-0266.

SPREADING WEALTH

The Rev. Curry's wife, Rhonda, is a nurse at Victory Lakes in Lake Villa and has just returned from a medical mission to India which included a stop at the children's home. She visited 11 different villages and her medical team saw a total of 3,475 people in need of medical care.

She commented, "It's hard (for us) to imagine not having access to a doctor, but in these small villages people do not have a way to get to a doctor or even have money to pay for medicine."

Currently there are 75 children being cared for in one dormitory at the Hope Children's Home, but another building is under construction which will accommodate an additional 50 children.

"We consider this a humanitarian effort. Although we come in the name of Christ, the home is not for Christians only. Any poor child is welcome," said the Rev. Curry. He added, "I know that some of these children would not be alive today, if not for the home."

According to the Rev. Curry, the children are in need of more sponsors. For $27 a month, a child can be provided with food, water, clothing, shelter and a loving environment where they can receive a good education.

"One hundred percent of the money goes to the children and operation of the home. We use none of the money for advertisement, fund-raising, printing or administration," said the Rev. Curry.

Anyone wishing to sponsor a child can call the Rev. Curry at (847) 546-1000, or write to him at 217 Goodnow, in the Village of Round Lake, 60073.

Best part of 'Cats & Dogs' is in the commercial

Jeff Goldblum and Elizabeth Perkins are all tied-up in "Cats & Dogs" now playing in local theaters.

One of my biggest pet peeves with summer movie hype are those movies that show all the best moments during their commercials. Then, there are the few rare exceptions where the best part of the commercials aren't even in the movies.

In the tradition of talking animal movies such as "Babe" and "Dr. Doolittle," a new fuzzy contender has come forward to entertain the little ones this summer.

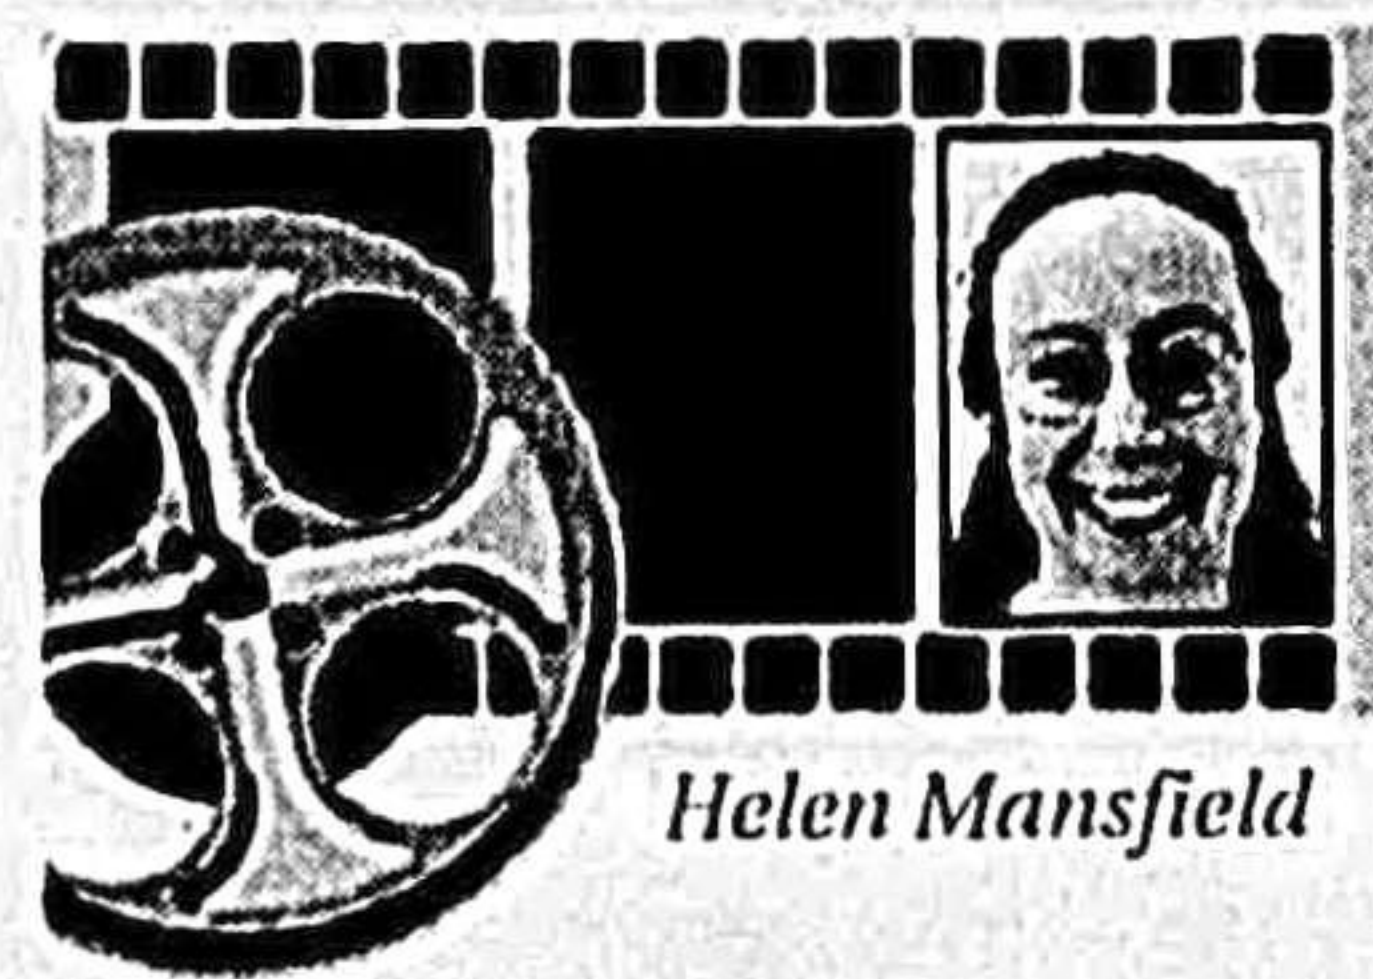

"Cats & Dogs" opened on the Fourth of July and has taken the talking animal trend to a new level. Part special effects, part puppetry, "Cats" features the voices of Toby Maguire and Alec Baldwin as a pair of spy dogs who become partnered up on accident and are plunged "paws forward" into the international world of dog vs. cat espionage.

The fur flies as both sides get into a hairy battle in order to win the affections of humans. Both sides use high tech gadgets to spy and inflict damage on the other.

Sean Hayes, of "Will and Grace" fame plays the voice of the evil "Mr. Tinkles," a cat too big for his collar as he plots to take dogs out of their roll as man's best friend, thus taking over the world. His bumbling sidekick is voiced by Jon Lovitz.

The humans at the center of the plot are Jeff Goldblum who plays a scientist who is in the process of creating a vaccine that will prevent humans from getting dog allergies, thus ensuring their place at man's side.

Mr. Tinkles can't allow this and sends cat explosive experts and even cat ninjas to prevent the Doctor's work from being completed.

The voice of Tinkles is expertly done by Sean Hayes, who does a maniacal combination of a James Bond villain and Austin Power's Dr. Evil. All the other voices, though recognizable, don't provide much punch. These parts could have been played by anyone.

I am a big fan of Tobey Maguire's acting ability and I look forward to see him portraying Spiderman next year, but his voice-over as the beagle puppy Lou wasn't a huge bonus.

As I alluded to earlier, all of the movie's best scenes were in the commercials, but they still did provide chuckles when they showed up in the movie.

Kids and adults alike will be amused by the talking animals, who you swear are really talking, and by the zany action, but kids will either not be able to follow the plot line or find themselves bored shortly into the film. I know I did.

CLC Theater to present 'Threepenny Opera'

London's underworld comes alive in campus production

The theater department at the College of Lake County will present "The Threepenny Opera" by Bertold Brecht and Kurt Weill on July 13, 14, 19, 20 and 21. All performances will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the studio theater on CLC's Grayslake campus. Tickets are $12 for the general public and $10 for students, alumni and seniors 65 and older.

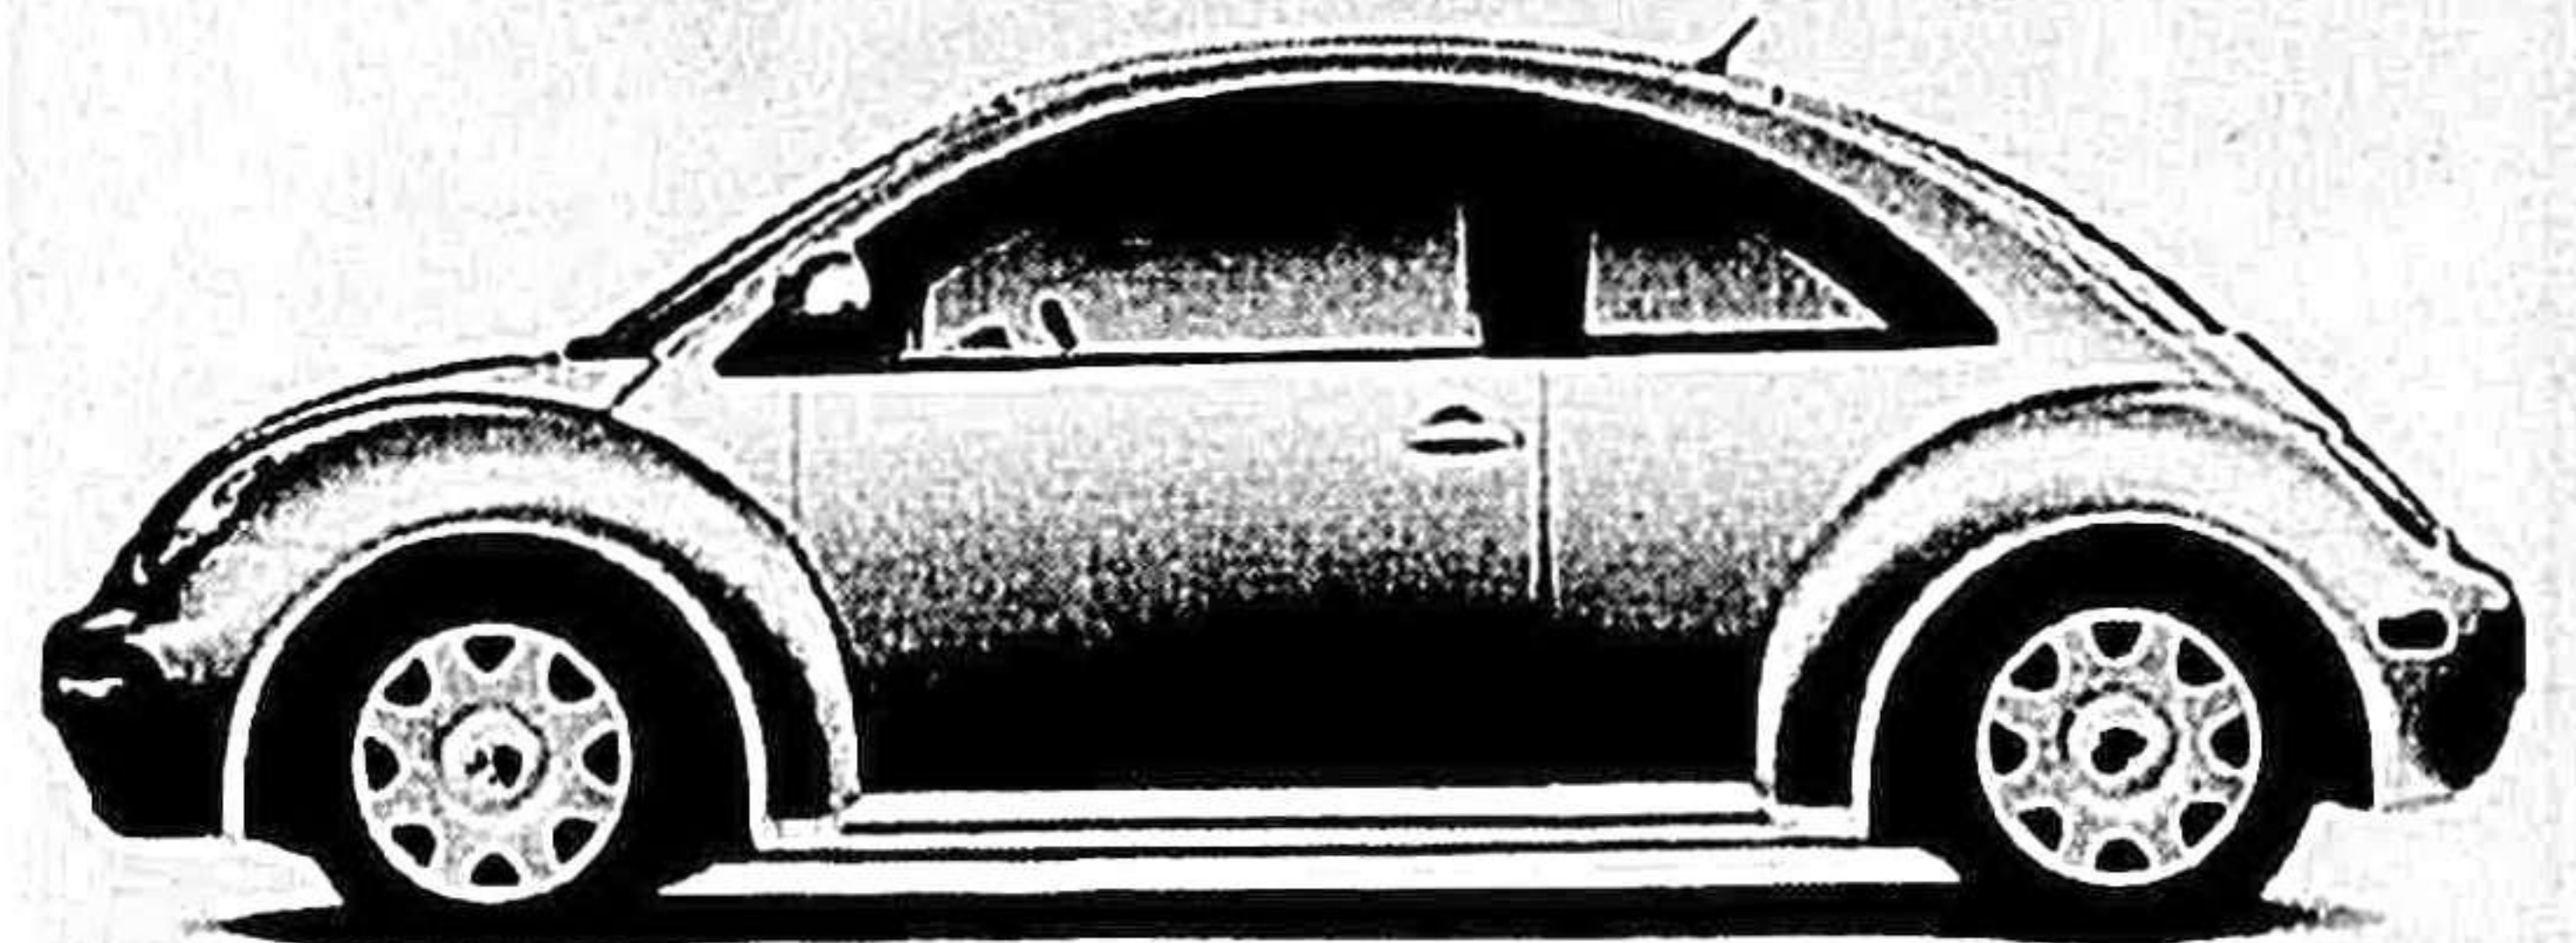

"Threepenny Opera" is based on John Gay's "The Beggar's Opera," which has been updated to the time of Queen Victoria's coronation. The story is set in London's underworld and involves the romance of Macheath and Polly Peachum, which is opposed by her father, king of the London beggars. Brecht's title of the play refers to the price a beggar can afford to pay and contains music like "Mack the Knife" and "Pirate Jenny's Song."

The CLC production is directed by Eibhlín Glennon, director of theater and an English faculty member.

For tickets or information, call the box office at 543-2300.

Bugfest 2001 set for Saturday, July 14

Bugfest 2001—the 10th Bugfest in the colorful history of this special event, which has become a mid-American institution—will be held at the Great Lakes Dragway, near Union Grove, Wis., on Saturday, July 14. The track will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

As always the case with Bugfest, attendees are invited to participate in what has become one of the biggest VW camp-outs. Volkswagen Clubs from throughout the region will be represented.

Food, beverages and an abundance of fun Bugfest souvenirs will be available. Enjoy the huge Swap Meet, a familiar and exciting feature of Bugfest, and the popular Manufacturers Midway for those on the lookout for great buys in parts and accessories. Also on the schedule is a car show with new and vintage VWs on display.

A highlight of the event is when the VWs take to the GLD track for special 1/8-mile drag races. It's great fun and doesn't hurt the cars. Everyone is invited to participate.

Last, but not least, is the annual "Best in the Midwest" Bikini Contest, a Bugfest tradition.

Sunday, July 15, is the 4-cylinder nationals from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Any car with a 4-cylinder or rotary engine gets a crack at Great Lakes Dragway's fabled track.

For more information, call the Bugfest hotline at 1-800-553-8955.

Theatre in the Woods opens season

The third season of Theatre in the Woods opens with a production of Paul Osborn's delightful comedy, "Morning at Seven." The play centers on four sisters and their families and continues Theatre in the Woods' tradition of presenting plays depicting life in early and mid-twentieth century America.

The setting of the play—two adjoining backyards in which the families experience their conflicts, their laughter and their tears, blends perfectly into the theatre's outdoor wooded surroundings.

Director Mike Prindiville comes to Theatre in the Woods having directed and appeared with the Park Ridge Players for many years.

Returning as members of the cast are favorites; Shirley Brown, Morton Grove (Our Town); Vickie Brand, Vernon Hills (Picnic); and Tom Gannon, Prospect Heights (Our Town.) Also featured are Dale Boton, Riverwoods; Mary Hammer Reichard, Deerfield; Judy Klarfeld, Wilmette; Everett Dean, Glenview; and Rosemary and Wally Cwik, Park Ridge.

Performances are July 20-22 and July 27-29 at 8 p.m. at the Riverwoods Village Hall, 300 Portwine Rd., Riverwoods. Tickets are $10 and are available at the Village Hall, at the door, Koenig and Strey and Coldwell Banker real estate agencies in downtown Deerfield and by mail order.

HOROSCOPE

Aries - March 21/April 20

A minor problem at work escalates into a serious situation. Work with your superiors to calm everyone down. Your efforts will be recognized. Loved ones rely on you a lot this week. They need your help to organize a family gathering. Capricorn and Scorpio play important roles on Thursday.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

Don't be stubborn when it comes to a romantic relationship this week, Taurus. You're not the only person involved; think about what your special someone wants and needs. A heart-to-heart talk will solve a lot of problems. A friend needs your help. Be supportive, and do what you can.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

There are so many things going on this week that you don't know which way to turn. Clear your thoughts, and organize your priorities. It's the only way to get everything done. The weekend will offer you a lot of time to relax. Do something special for yourself. A loved one has a surprise for you. You're going to love it.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

Keep your temper in check early in the week when many people will be asking for your assistance. Do what you can to help them, because they need your expertise. A family friend offers you a lucrative business opportunity. Look at the facts before making a decision. There's a lot of potential here.

Leo - July 23/August 23

This is your week to roar, Leo. You finish an important project ahead of schedule and make great strides in a personal relationship. That special someone finally responds to your advances. Now is the time to show him or her how much you care. Plan a romantic evening for the two of you.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

Your opinion is the deciding factor when it comes to a business proposition. Don't agree to do anything that you're not comfortable with. Think about your own welfare. The person you've been dating doesn't call. Don't get upset. He or she just has a lot going on.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

A business associate asks your advice about a personal problem that he or she is having. Try to help, but don't get too involved. Mixing business and personal matters can lead to a lot of difficulties. A close friend lets you in on a secret. Keep it to yourself. He or she only told you because you are so trustworthy. Virgo plays a key role early in the week.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

You're seeing red early in the week. Everything seems to upset you, and you don't know what to do. Take some time for yourself. Clear your mind, and try to relax. It's the only way you'll get anything done this week. That special someone calls it off. Don't brood over what could have been. He/she wasn't right for you.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

You don't know what you've got until it's gone — unfortunately, this adage applies to you this week, Sagittarius. Someone whom you take for granted doesn't want to see you anymore. Only now do you realize how much he or she means to you. Turn to loved ones for support. They are there for you.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

You have a difficult decision to make on Monday. The "wrong" choice could anger a lot of friends, but don't let this influence you. You have to do what is best for yourself. A close family relationship becomes strained, and you don't know why. Talk to this loved one, and work out the problem.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

A problem in the workplace takes up most of your time this week. You have to cancel some personal plans in order to remedy the situation. Don't worry — your loved ones and friends will understand. You meet an interesting person during the weekend. Be yourself.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

You feel like you're swimming upstream early in the week. Everything that you try to do backfires. Don't get discouraged. Your efforts will pay off in the long run. That special someone wants to take you out for a night on the town. Say yes.

Ryan outlines successes of term, future transportation challenges

By HELEN MANSFIELD
Staff Reporter

Transportation, aviation and infrastructure were the items outlined by Gov. George Ryan during Tuesday's Legislative Breakfast Club sponsored by State Rep. Andrea Moore (R-Libertyville) at the Colby Barn in the Prairie Crossing subdivision.

Giving an overview of his successes during his first three years in office, Ryan sounded more like a potential gubernatorial candidate than seated governor.

Introduced by State Rep. Moore, she pointed to some of the area improvements that were completed through Ryan's "Illinois First" program including improvements at the intersection of Rtes. 120 and 45, along with the development of the Independence Grove Forest Preserve.

Ryan said the majority of the successes in Springfield were attained through non-partisan cooperation which in turn has brought aid to Lake County.

Like Lake County, Gov. Ryan said Illinois has seen a lot of growth and development with the State bringing in $900 million during his third year in office.

The majority of that money, Ryan said was going into education and workforce training.

To keep Illinois in the forefront of economic development, Ryan said airport improvements will need to be done for the Chicagoland area; whether that be additional runways at O'Hare or the construction of a new airport in Peotone.

By the year 2006, Ryan said roughly 91 infrastructure projects would be underway in Lake County affecting 61 miles of road and 33 bridges.

These improvements would occur on Rt. 83, Rt. 45, Milwaukee and Washington Streets, consisting of widening and the implementation of traffic signals.

As for the proposed Rt. 53 expansion, Gov. Ryan said it is "being studied but nothing has hit my desk."

Ryan, who arrived by helicopter, said local representatives will not let him forget about the Rt. 53 project and acknowledge that he knows how congested Lake County can be with traffic.

"We're going to work to fix it, but it won't be tomorrow," he said. "We'll do what we can when we can."

State sees I-Pass making traffic improvements around tolls

By HELEN MANSFIELD
Staff Reporter

Car travelers around the state of Illinois will hopefully see smoother transitions through the Illinois Tollways as they motor around the State this summer due in part to the rising popularity of the Illinois Tollway's I-Pass.

Jan Kemp of the Illinois Tollway said though the State doesn't promote the I-Pass other than through signage at the tollways, 500,000 I-Passes had been issued at the time of the Chicago Auto Show in Feb.

As of the end of June, Kemp said over 600,000 have been issued.

"It certainly has improved congestion at the tollways," she said. "We are just thrilled."

Launched in 1993 on the North-South Tollway, I-355, all of the tollway's 65 m.p.h. ramps and mainline toll plazas are equipped with the I-Pass.

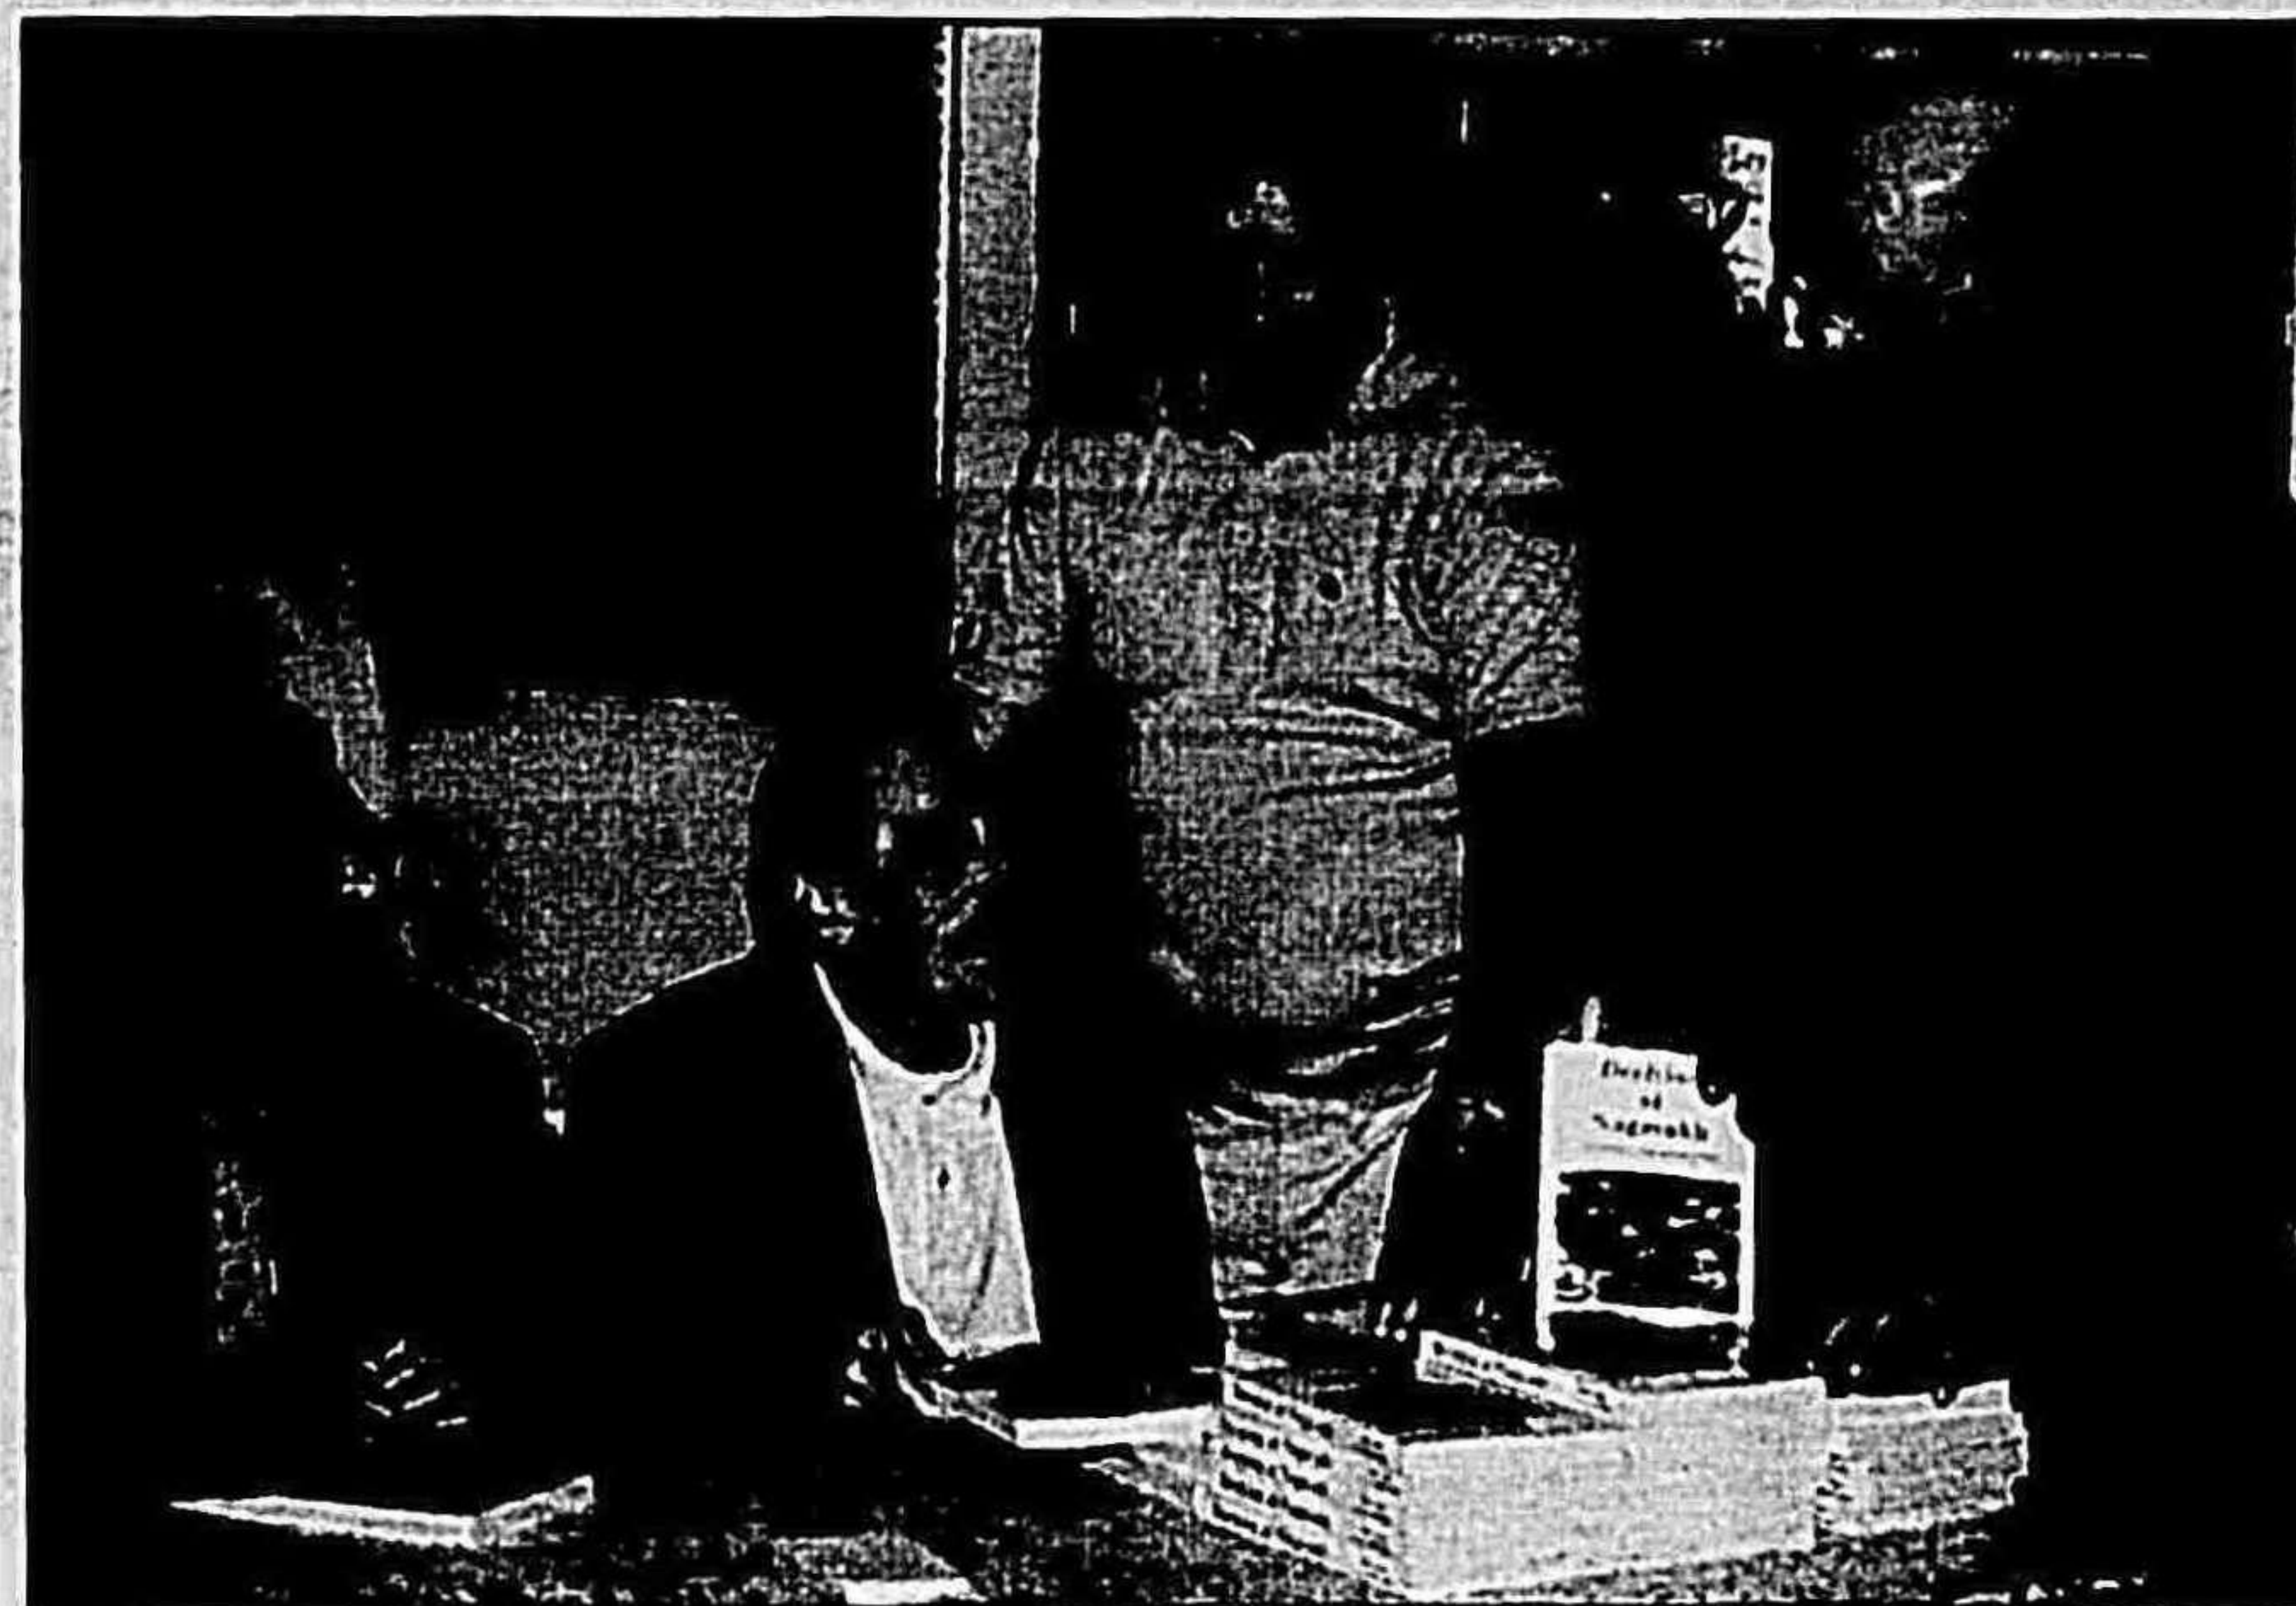

I-Pass users can pay tolls without having

Talking to seniors

Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson will be featured speaker at the 28th Senior Expo Tuesday, Aug. 7, at College of Lake County. Richardson's topic will be "A Gift of Life." A day long program of interest to senior citizens begins at 8 a.m. and runs through 4 p.m. with lunch included for a $10 per person admission charge. Event is sponsored by the Lake County Council for Seniors.

Talking about history

Fred Olivi, seated left, autographs copies of his book on flight of Bockscar, the B-29 bomber that dropped second atomic bomb on Japan, ending World War II. Standing left, Dick Molvack of Lake Villa, B-29 pilot and George Schumer of Round Lake Beach, wait for signed copies. Olivi was accompanied at book signing at Art N' Blooms, Center St., Grayslake, by John Hahn of Crete, seated right, a C-47 pilot during the war. Olivi served as co-pilot on historic flight.

Starring in the production of "Threepenny Opera" at CLC are Jennifer Walden of Libertyville as Lucy Brown, Christian Rayner of Ingleside as Macheath and April Lenz-Caff of Wildwood as Polly Peachum. Below: Patricia Peterson of Libertyville as Jenny Diver and Christian Rayner as Macheath.

'Threepenny Opera' opens at CLC July 13

The College of Lake County theatre department's summer production "The Threepenny Opera" by Bertold Brecht and Kurt Weill will open on July 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the Studio Theatre of the Grayslake Campus, 19351 W. Washington St. The production will be repeated at 7:30 p.m., July 14, 19, 20 and 21. Tickets are $12 for the general public and $10 for students, alumni and seniors 65 and older.

"The Threepenny Opera" is based on John Gay's "The Beggar's Opera," which has been updated to the time of Queen Victoria's coronation. The story is set in London's underworld and involved the romance of Macheath and Polly Peachum, which is opposed by her father, the king of London's beggars. Brecht's title of the play refers to the price a beggar can afford to pay and contains music like "Mac the Knife" and "Pirate Jenny's Song."

The CLC production is directed Eibhlín Glennon, director of theatre and an English faculty member, and consists of more than 20 CLC students and community members. For tickets, call the box office at 543-2300. Visa, MasterCard, Discover and American Express are accepted.

Toll chief voices backing of Rte. 53

Arthur Philip, chairman of the board of directors of the Illinois State Toll Highway Authority, is a strong backer of the north extension of Rte. 53 in Lake County.

The Rte. 53 extension "is the only way to solve the transportation problems in Lake County," he said.

Philip stressed that the toll authority is "committed to seeing the extension completed."

Philip further commented that the toll authority originally was given the responsibility to complete the entire I-355 loop, including the portion through Lake County, a long time ago. He expressed the opinion that "it is ridiculous" that only one-third of that project actually has been constructed. "The Illinois legislature has directed us to study the feasibility of building the Rte. 53 extension and we are still under that direction," Philip said. "We will proceed until we are directed to stop."

money on hand, rolling down the window, waiting for traffic or, in some cases, stopping.

The Illinois Tollway also offers dedicated I-Pass lanes including 18 Car "I-Pass Only" lanes which allow I-Pass users to travel through toll plazas at 30 m.p.h., 16 "I-Pass Express" lanes which allow cars and trucks to travel through at the posted speed limit, as well as five "Truck I-Pass Only" lanes on the Tri-State Tollway, I-294.

In the past several months, the Illinois Tollway has done away with the $60 deposit they initially required on the I-Pass unit itself, lowering it to $20.

They have since refunded those moneys to owners which in turn has probably encouraged others to get the I-Pass unit.

"The deposit cost certainly is an incentive for some people, but others are getting it because they see other drivers using it," Kemp said.

I-Pass Express Lanes can process more than 2000 vehicles per hour and Car I-Pass Only Lanes can process 1800 vehicles per hour, compared to manual lanes at 350 vehicles per hour.

The ability to travel quickly and easily through toll plazas has convinced frequent and occasional Illinois Tollway drivers alike to sign up for I-Pass.

"I-Pass is the most effective answer we've found yet to easing traffic congestion on the Illinois Tollway System," said Illinois Tollway Executive Director Thomas Cuculich. "We're seeing a decrease in the length of traffic backups at the toll plaza, and in many locations delays have been eliminated altogether. However, a large part of the credit for these strides lies with the Illinois Tollway drivers."

I-Pass electronic toll collection was responsible for 36 percent of toll revenue collected in 2000.

To participate in the I-Pass program, customers pay a $20 refundable deposit fee for the I-Pass unit and open their pre-paid toll account with a minimum of $40.

A discounted $10 deposit fee is available to customers signing up for automatic payment by credit card, which replenishes their pre-paid toll accounts when the balance drops below $10.

For more information, or to order the I-Pass, call 800-UC-IPASS (800-824-7277).

Need Wisconsin flood cooperation

Illinois officials are recognizing shortcomings in the Fox River water-control system with plans for two dam improvement project due for construction in the next 14 months.

That comes as good news for boaters and businesses in the Illinois portion of the Fox watershed that continue to experience problems whenever high water levels occur. What about extensive water-control problems occurring on the Wisconsin side of the watershed?

During periods of heavy rainfall, boaters tell of a cascade of water up to five or six inches "hitting" the Chain O'Lakes area because the Wilmot, Wis., dam no longer is in place to contain or displace unusually large amounts of water collected in the upper portions of the Fox watershed. Flood waters gush into Illinois uncontrolled until reaching the Stratton Lock and Dam in Moraine Hills State Park near McHenry.

At these times, to protect property and insure safety, officials clamp on no wake rules. This creates as sort of "yo-yo" effect for boaters and boating-related businesses. There is monumental confusion and losses run into the millions over a season.

Engineers have designed a $3 million program for prevention of flooding and recurring restrictions on boating. Stratton Lock is due for upgrades and the Algonquin spillway is due for installation of another gate. Stratton improvements include a drawbridge-like device that can be raised and lowered.

Approximately $500,000 has been earmarked for a new study of the Chain O'Lakes and entire Fox River system to determine better methods for dam operation and forecasting water level changes. That speaks well for Illinois, but still leaves unanswered water level management questions on the Wisconsin side.

Replacing the Wilmot containment facility is not an option. Never a dam technically, a concrete spillway was built originally to generate hydro-electricity for the rural village. The structure collapsed 20 years ago. Rebuilding was never considered. Many years ago, Wisconsin abandoned a policy of using dams for water control, allowing its streams and rivers to flood as nature dictates.

Useful data, though, could be obtained from Wisconsin sources for forecasting water levels. Our northern neighbors should be willing to cooperate on silt containment and other water quality questions. It won't hurt to include Wisconsin in the engineering study.

Lawsuit threat is not working

None will ever know how much land in Lake County has been developed under threat of a lawsuit. It's safe to say that putting a gun to the head of officialdom is a common play when land use questions get down and dirty. And it works.

Newly-elected Antioch Mayor Taso Maravellas has warned residents that raise questions about a proposed home building project that would increase population about a third that they are courting legal action from the developer. Maravellas has bantered about legal costs to the individual homeowner running between $15,000 and $20,000.

What's at stake is authority for Neumann Homes to build 1,308 homes on 634 acres east of the village off Rte. 173. Opposition is so intense that the next meeting of the village council on Monday, July 16, has been moved to the high school to accommodate interested citizens.

Citizen opposition is different for two reasons: 1. Opponents aren't out to block the project in total; 2. They're not backing off in the face of possible legal action. In fact, opponents have adopted a sort of OK Corral mentality. They're willing to call for a show of cards. Opponents themselves have retained legal council and they have formed Antioch Coalition to Rescue the Environment (ACRE).

Opposition to the project isn't new. Unstable soils make building complicated. Proposals for a golf course community were raised. There was a time when the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. considered all or a portion of the property for acquisition. After running on a campaign plank to slow growth, Maravellas is taking cover under the guise that his administration inherited a development mess.

Opponents view a lower density, perhaps 600 homes, as a compromise. A lower number of homes would ease pressure on needs for schools and public services. Public opinion is on the side of addressing environmental issues.

It may well take action in the courts to sort out the entanglements and conflicting interests. Opposition to Neumann Homes plans appears to be solid. A determined citizenry doesn't seem to be deterred by threats.

VIEWPOINT

Big bomb pilot relives history

There were members of America's "Greatest Generation" at the book signing. Some of them came to thank a B29 pilot for saving their life that might have been lost in the invasion of Japan that was taking shape in 1945.

They always come.

With their wives or alone, the World War II servicemen know what the exploits of Fred J. Olivi and his flying mates meant to them. Now in their late 70s and early 80s, they owe their lives to the flyers who dropped the atomic bombs on Japan to end the war.

Autographing his book about that fateful bombing run to Nagasaki, Olivi is an unassuming hero who talks freely about the events surrounding his historic flight. Soft-spoken and matter of fact, Olivi is unfailingly polite as he accepts the expressions of appreciation, many of them offered tearfully and chokingly.

Olivi was in the cockpit of Bockscar, the B29 that delivered the knock out punch, the second "fat man bomb" that indelibly drove home the point to Japanese warlords that further fighting would be fruitless.

Co-pilot Olivi and the Bockscar crew will forever be second bananas to the immortal Enola Gay piloted by Col. Paul Tibbets, commander of the secret unit using the code name "Silverplate" that dropped the first super bomb on Hiroshima, stunning the world with its unbelievable force.

"There was never any doubt that Tibbets would make the first flight. He was our boss," remarked Olivi at Art N' Blooms flower and frame shop in downtown Grayslake where his Lake County visit took place.

The son of Italian immigrants, Olivi entered the Air Force from his native Chicago. His experience in combat was in B24s, a smaller airplane that he loved to fly. The ponderous B29s were "harder to fly. We made 13-hour training runs regularly. I learned what it meant to be glued to your seat by your own sweat."

Olivi's book, "Decision at Nagasaki: The Mission That Almost Failed," recounts three misfortunes, any one of which could have ruined the mission. Tibbets' flight went off like clockwork.

Leaving active duty after the war, at age 28 Olivi hoped to keep flying in commercial aviation. Flying didn't work out. "Pilots were a dime a dozen in those days so a job with the city of Chicago looked pretty good." Starting as a draftsman, Olivi worked his way up to head the city's system of 50 bascule bridges, the unique design that opens in the middle to allow for boats to pass quickly.

The quiet hero keeps busy these days, averaging two appearances a week, mostly at schools and libraries. His life is enriched with visits to air shows where he can "talk shop" with former World War II pilots. Olivi is immeasurably pleased when young people ask him questions about the bombing of Japan, especially the ones who have done their homework.

Americans aren't noted for their interest in history. "It's 'feast or famine,'" Olivi exclaimed to describe knowledge of young people. Born and raised in the Pullman district on Chicago's South Side, Olivi said he is a graduate of the "School of Hard Knocks." That and his pilot training leading to his status as an authentic America hero.

Prophetic words?

Speaking at Prairie Crossing Tuesday morning, Gov. George Ryan came about as close as a political leader can come to announcing a re-election bid. "I want to continue to be involved," he commented. The context of his remark was praise for Lake County's Springfield delegation. Like a true politician, Ryan left his audience guessing. Indications are that he'll make his plans know in late August, certainly by Labor Day.

Faithful reader

At age 102, Mrs. Victor Nelson still is an avid reader of local news. Her newspaper of choice is the Grayslake Times, which was founded a few years before she was born. Mrs. Nelson just renewed her subscription. Thank you and happy reading.

Wear your jeans

You'll be in the height of fashion Friday, Oct. 5, wearing blue jeans. Denim will be the order of the day as part of Vista Health's "It's All in the Jeans" day to raise funds to enhance local breast health services for women. By making a $2 contribution, employees will earn official sanction to wear denim. The contribution will trigger a chain reaction where each participating business will have its contribution matched by a business match sponsor. Jeans Day took shape when Vista Health learned that the cure for breast cancer can be found in the genes. You'll be hearing more about the event as the day nears.

Attend 'med' school

In response to popular demand, Lake Forest Hospital's Mini Medical School will reopen Oct. 2 and run through Nov. 27 Tuesdays from 7 to 9:30 p.m. The series, run by doctors, is designed to acquaint laymen with a range of medical information. No entrance exam required and no tests, but students receive a course book, "Owner's Manual for the Human Body." Persons completing the course will earn a graduation certificate.

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Letter writers blitzing Mark Kirk

Democrats are scorching Congressman Mark Kirk (R-10th) in a July letter-to-the-editor blitz.

They are taking him to task for failure to take a stand on needed expansion of O'Hare Airport. The barrage is seen as an early test of freshman Kirk's standing in the district and a search for issues that might uncover a Kirk weakness for the 2002 campaign.

National commentators are pointing out that Democrats plan heavy use of direct mail to regain House seats next year.

The 10th Dist. letter writing assault could be part of the strategy. If nothing else, the election will decide who writes better letters, Democrats or Republicans.

Watching Mathias

Atty. Mike Salvi, one-time Republican General Assembly candidate and keen-eyed political observer, says the unrestrained enthusiasm of State Rep. Sid Mathias (R-Buffalo Grove) for Rte. 53 could erase backing Mathias has enjoyed from fiscally conservative Republicans. Mathias willingly picked up the Rte. 53 cudgel when Bob Churchill gave up his seat in a safe legislative district to run state-wide. Salvi views Rte. 53 as an environmental and financial disaster.

Land users

Fremont Supervisor Pete Tekampe, operator of a custom farming business, isn't standing in the way of market forces that would consume agricultural lands in Fremont for commercial purposes. He has an ally in Round Lake Park Mayor Ila Bauer who supports cluster-style development for higher density housing that at the same time provides for open spaces. While in favor of preserving some demonstration farms, Tekampe isn't about to join the open space movement in Fremont being organized to block annexation moves of villages like Round Lake Park that covet land in Fremont Township.

Not for station

Lake Zurich Mayor Jim Kriechke is taking issue with plans of the Lake Zurich Rural Fire Protection Dist. to build a fire station in Deer Park even though it will expose the district to steep deficits. He sees the project has coming back to haunt both officials and taxpayers.

Son not like father

Sam Skinner, North Shore dignitary, was known as "The Hammer" when he served as Secretary of Transportation and chief of staff for President George Bush's father. His son, Tom, 39, moving up rapidly in the federal environmental protection bureaucracy, is regarded as having a more temperate personality. He is the new U.S. EPA Midwest chief for Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio and Wisconsin. Son of Sam resides in Lake Bluff where he is the village president.

All girl event

Political prognosticators in both parties fully expect the 2002 race for Illinois attorney general will pit Republican Lt. Gov. Corinne Wood against Lisa Madigan whose pop is Democratic Speaker Mike Madigan. Demo blue blood Lisa is regarded as a bright star. So is Wood. Should be quite a clash.

Grand old PARTY

Oh, those hop-scotching Republicans. Tuesday, July 24, they have a GOP Senate Fund replenisher cocktail party and concert at Ravinia. Then they'll trade their dress-up duds for beach wear for County Treasurer Bob Skidmore's burger fest at Blarney's Island, Grass Lake. The Skidmore outing is Wednesday, Aug. 29, which means the County Building will be Ghost City in the afternoon.

Mellow mayor

Antioch Mayor Taso Maravellos is dealing with a hot potato development case in the controversial Neumann Homes project of 1,308 homes. And the way he's handling the situation has angered many of his one-time supporters. He reportedly said, "Give them what they want" to prevent a costly lawsuit.

Surgery for Crane

Medics gave former Congressman John Porter no time to ponder his future health. After finding heart complications in connection with July 4 holiday check up, surgeons performed triple bypass surgery on the North Shore Republican who declined to run for reelection last spring.

Running dry

The Chicago Tribune predicts we will have a water shortage by 2020; that is next week. I believe it will be much sooner. Many have warned of this problem for years. Even Lake Michigan is not an endless supply of fresh water, with many trying to tap into it from as far away as Arizona, which is also suffering the same shortsightedness we have witnessed right here at home. In addition, even much of our ground water is not usable due to man-made pollution promoted by greedy people, some of whom are hometown folks.

Locally, leaders are planning to hold hearings to amend Libertyville Township's comprehensive plan, which is always the forerunner for annexation plus zoning into farmland and open space with the end result eventually leading to the magic number of 25,000 population, which automatically would mean Home Rule, which often is thought by some to be a vehicle promoting higher taxes by many residents. The phrase "amended comprehensive plan" oftentimes gives the illusion that the idea is well thought out, which is not necessarily true.

The question must be asked: Do we need more housing, or home rule? Not unless it will improve our community, which I don't believe it will. Why not draw a line down Peterson Rd. and promote more open space on the old Peterson farm and the Casey farm, making an excellent case for Lake County to buy development rights or fee simple or both?

The landowners, if they want, could still own the land the public would not have to build new schools or roads. Those two farms would equal 67 acres, which at modest zoning would require 201 more single-family houses and $10,050,000 more in new school costs over the next 20 years. It will still be much cheaper than building more schools, let alone the many problems of running out of water. They will also generate 2040 more auto trips daily.

The above would require a bond issue but so would the need to build new schools and roads. The public will pay both ways, but much more for development of the land. There are several answers: Putting the lid on immigration, conservation, trying to curb our greed, to name just a few. A questions must be asked: Where are all our elected township, county, state and federal public officials? It is time for everyone to wake up before the well really runs dry.

E.T. 'Mike' Graham, Supervisor
Libertyville Township

My memory is fine, just a little short

The good news is our third grandchild is on the way. Daughter Ann and her husband Mike are expecting a baby girl in November. We already have two great little grandsons, Zachary and Alex, thanks to son Tony and his wife Julie.

But I fear I'm becoming too absentminded to baby-sit another child. What if I forget where I put the diapers, the bottles, or the baby itself?

Health experts say memory loss is one of the most common complaints of people age 50 and older.

After 20 minutes of searching for your glasses you discover they have been resting on your forehead all along. You have gone to the garage three extra times in hopes of remembering why you went the first time. And you just poured orange juice into your cereal.

I can identify with that sort of thing. A preacher friend recently suggested a person my age should start thinking about the hereafter. I told him I do that all the time. Often, when I go into another room looking for something, I wonder what I'm here after.

I hope my grandchildren never joke about me the way comedian Ellen DeGeneris

THE PFARR CORNER

does about her grandmother: "She started walking five miles a day when she was 60. She's 97 now and we don't know where in the hell she is."

Typical of my increasing forgetfulness, I was hovering over a putt the other day, pondering stem cell research, campaign finance reform and Wall Street woes — and trying to remember if I changed the kitty litter back home before I left for golf—when a partner announced, "You have spent 17 seconds over that putt and haven't hit it yet."

"Oh! Where am I?" I blurted. "Oh yes, golf. I forgot what we were doing here."

Well, maybe we forgetful folks can improve our memories. The good doctors at the Mayo Clinic have offered eight pages of tips for keeping the old noggin nimble as we age. Here are a few:

Exercise your mind. Learn to play a musical instrument, play scrabble or do crossword puzzles.

Learn a foreign language, stay informed—read newspapers (especially this one).

Just as physical activity keeps the body strong, mental activity keeps the mind sharp and agile.

Exercise daily for 30 minutes.

Try out a new hobby (crafts, painting, biking, bird-watching).

Eat a diet rich in fruits and vegetables, and drink eight glasses of water a day. Take a sip at every drinking fountain you see.

The doctors add: "You're not the only one who has placed a coffee cup (or worse, a chocolate shake) on the roof of your car and then driven away. You're not the first person to dial a number only to forget whom you're calling."

"We all lose a little bit of memory over time," they acknowledge, "but years of experience often make up for any mental sharpness we've lost. Wisdom is built from a lifetime of memories." So there.

Now I will drive over to the newspaper office and drop off this column—if I can remember where I put my car keys.

Letters welcome

Women's Auxiliary announces scholarship winners

Lake Forest Hospital Women's Auxiliary has announced the recipients of Health Career Scholarships. Sue McWilliams, LFH CareCoach program coordinator, has received the $5,000 Marion Warner Hodgkins Scholarship award. Fifteen additional A.B. Dick Jr. Scholarships, ranging from $1,000-$2,500 also have been awarded by the Women's Board. The scholarships are for students interested in pursuing careers in the field of health care or for professionals continuing their education in a health care field. Named for Mimi Hodgkins who was instrumental in establishing the Women's Board and served as its first president and volunteered for more than 50 years at the hospital, the scholarship will allow McWilliams to complete her master's of science in nursing online through the University of Phoenix.

"Always furthering my education has improved my nursing practice," said the 21-year employee of the hospital. Using the Internet to get a degree gives the mother of four (ages 3, 5, 7, and 13) the flexibility she needs. "I get my kids to bed and go online while they are sleeping," she explained. "It's a little harder in summer because they don't go to bed quite as early."

McWilliams lives with her children and husband, Peter, a firefighter/paramedic for the city of Lake Forest, in Lake Bluff. They met when McWilliams was on duty in Lake Forest Hospital's Emergency Room. She plans on finishing her degree next spring. "I'm absolutely thrilled to be ## Working out and not getting right results?

Whether you are a fitness addict with a personal trainer, a ready-to-reform couch potato, or, like most people, are struggling to incorporate exercise into a busy lifestyle, the perfect fitness program for you is one that is compatible with your body type.

The man who Fit Magazine calls "the Shape Master," world-renowned fitness guru Edward J. Jackowski, Ph.D. and author of Escape Your Shape: How to Work Out Smarter, Not Harder (Simon & Schuster, 2001), disputes the conventional wisdom of some doctors, trainers and others who advocate one-size-fits-all exercise programs. Such generic programs, cautions Jackowski, "at the least do nothing for you, and under certain circumstances, can actually make your problem areas worse."

Jackowski, founder of Exude, the nation's largest one-on-one fitness company and the "Escape Your Shape" routine, offers specific workouts to help people get in shape simply and easily, for optimal fitness, energy and health. He empathizes with the frustration people feel when they make an effort to work out but see little or no change in their body shape, or worse, bulk up when they want to slim down. Too often the problem, he reports, "is that you may be exercising for somebody else's body type."

Dr. Jackowski characterizes body types as four basic shapes: the proportionately balanced Hourglass; the smaller on top, larger on bottom Spoon; the wider on top, slimmer hipped Cone; and the straight up and down Ruler. After using his guidelines to determine which type you are, you can work out with the specific patent-pending "Escape Your Shape" exercise routine for your body type. The routines are simple and easy to perform wherever you are, using items as readily accessible as a jump rope, a floor mat and a portable aerobic bar.

Marissa, a 40-year-old professional, who lost 30 pounds and 31 inches in six months, has high praise for the Escape Your Shape program. "This program is about freedom as well as results," she says. "I am no longer tethered to my health club, wondering whether the seat was at the right height or I was using the right weight. I enjoy the benefits of a great exercise program and don't spend hours at the gym. I feel so much healthier and happier. It is the perfect workout for my busy lifestyle."

Michael, 44, another Escape Your Shape true believer, was a self-confessed lapsed athlete who started each day with two cups of coffee and two buttered bagels. A Ruler, he says that as his business grew so did his girth. He lost 52 pounds and 30 inches, and gained renewed self-esteem. Thousands of delighted men and women from 18 to 80 who have "escaped their shape" now know how to incorporate exercise into their daily lives. An added benefit: healthy eating habits that provide significant weight loss, lower blood pressure, improved cholesterol levels and more energy.

Judith, 57, says, "Your approach seemed too simple to work. For someone to get fit without even leaving the house is a small miracle for me."

A study conducted by Jackowski and medically approved by physicians of 300 adult male and female Escape Your Shape participants over a six-year period demonstrated the effectiveness of his body type methodology. He advises people who are serious about their health that it takes more than minor lifestyle adjustments, such as walking instead of driving to work or taking the stairs rather than the elevator, as some "experts" suggest to get in shape and be healthier.

What Jackowski offers is a realistic and enjoyable exercise program, designed to take into account the hectic pace at which most of us live our lives. Many people enthusiastically begin an exercise program, but because they are not exercising correctly for their body type they do not get the desired results, drop out, and feel guilty. With his program the results are so dramatic within the first 30 days or less, that people are motivated to continue, says Jackowski. "The stress alleviating effects of becoming physically fit are as satisfying as the physical transformations," he reports.

Why talking and tantrums don't mix!

Hi Dr. Singer,

Our 7 year old daughter has tantrums like you cannot believe. She looks possessed. We have had her medically evaluated and nothing shows up. Our pediatrician suggests that she is spoiled, but we aren't sure. During the tantrum, we have tried to talk to her each time about what is bothering her and we sit with her for up to a half hour trying to reason with her afterwards and it just happens the same way again the next day. We don't know what to do. Can you help us? L.L.

PARENT'S PLACE

Dr. Sherri Singer

Dear L.L.,

Just from your presentation of the problem to me, I can tell why this is continuing. It's also the reason that I believe, causes most bad behavior patterns to continue forever. It's in the talking part. Giving that much positive attention and time to a child who is acting that way will not only continue the behavior, but if done long enough, will make it permanent.

There are a lot of professionals and semi-professionals out there who believe that you must reason and talk to a child during horrible behavior. I've seen it done in schools all over the place. They somehow believe that the child will willingly give up their power abusing behavior if they just say the right words. That is very wrong. If you look at what the cause and purpose of a tantrum really are, it begins to become very clear why talking will never work. The cause of a tantrum is rarely biological and is rarely about true deep emotions that need talking. At that age, true deep emotions are not usually the case. Usually, the tantrum begins because, plain and simple, the child has not gotten what he or she wants. Guess what? It's a fact of life that none of us always get what we want and usually, rarely do we get what we want. We need to learn that lesson young so that we don't go through life beating people up to get what we want. If you think these tantrums just stop at some age, think again. I've met plenty of adults capable of full blown tantrums because no one ever taught them differently as children. If we learn young that we get a ton of attention and a personal audience from being obnoxious in our attempts to get what we want, we have gotten the goal and will continue to do the same thing over and over again.

Please see SINGER / B7

The purpose of a tantrum is very simple. It is to scare everyone around you into believing that you are more powerful than they are. Sometimes, looking at some of the kids I've seen do this, it's very believable that they are more powerful. When a child shrieks and a parent backs down, who is the more powerful one? Now, you might ask why I bring up power. Isn't power a bad thing to have over a child? Well, when it is abused, power is bad for anyone, but when a parent is using power appropriately to be in a position above the child to insure that behavior is appropriate, parental power is not only good, but necessary to the child's survival. If the child believes that he or she is in a more powerful or higher position in the family than the parent, you have big trouble that lasts and lasts and lasts. In our present society, many of us give our kids way too much power, way too young.

The best thing to do is to let the child tantrum or provide appropriate consequences* for the tantrum. This is provided the child is not being physically dangerous to himself, herself or others. In that case, you need to learn to get that dangerous behavior under control as soon as possible. I can train you in that if you need. I have worked with many a physically acting out child successfully. If the tantrums are not dangerous and are just about screaming and stomping, eventually, the child will wear out on it, if no one gives in. Eventually, it hurts the throat to scream. It becomes exhausting. When the tantrum becomes more work than profit, guess what happens? It goes away because it isn't successful anymore. This is just human nature. We continue to do what works and we stop what doesn't. The problem usually happens when parents ignore it one time and then give in the next. This makes future tantrums stronger and longer. It happens in about 99% of all households in this country. So, don't feel alone.

Most parents give in because they feel they are somehow damaging their child by not paying attention to the feelings. This is just not correct. If you coddle a child who is having a tantrum, you are reinforcing the bad behavior. If you wait until the child gets himself or herself under control and then talk about what happened, you are going to have more attention from the child about the talk and you will not be reinforcing bad behavior.

If this has been occurring for a long time, my advice to you is to call me again and come see me. I have eradicated tantrums from many, many families within a few days, permanently. It's really very simple to do, but the first step starts with deciding to do it. Do not be embarrassed about it. Like I said, all families deal with this. Go to the grocery store sometime just to watch and see for yourself, how many bags of cookies are bought in the name of appeasement! I look forward to hearing from you.

Note: Even when tantrums are not dangerous, watch from a distance to make sure they don't get that way. Sometimes, when you stop paying attention, the child will want to up the ante some and you need to be there to stop that. Do not hover. Just watch from a distance.

*I have been referred to as "The Queen of Creative Consequences" many a time. Even when you think that there is nothing that might get in the way of your child's bad behavior, come talk to me. I'll show you that there is always something appropriate and creative to make that bad behavior go away!

Pre-qualification routine can be costly for homebuyers

Shopping for a home without a mortgage approval is a little like filling out a credit card application in the checkout line: You know what you want to buy, but you have no idea if you'll be able to pay for it.

Nevertheless, the overwhelming majority of homebuyers put the horse before the cart in a similar fashion when it comes to house hunting and mortgages.

"Our research shows that 92 percent of borrowers sign a real estate sales contract before receiving a formal commitment for a mortgage, a practice that is potentially risky and expensive," said Tom Ward, president of Mundelein-based Majestic Mortgage Corp., a mortgage banker and broker.

"The traditional routine of pre-qualify, buy, apply has inherent pitfalls, and homebuyers need to avoid them. Legally, a pre-qualification or a pre-approval means nothing. It's simply an informal assessment of someone's borrowing capabilities. Adding to the confusion is the fact that many lenders use the terms 'pre-qualification' and 'pre-approval' interchangeably," Ward noted.

"The bottom line is this: You're either approved for a mortgage or you're not, and there are many good reasons why it's important to be the former," Ward said.

First, what's the difference between a pre-qualification, a pre-approval and an approval?

A pre-qualification is an estimate of the amount a homebuyer can borrow. The estimate is based on information the borrower provides to a lender, usually during an informal phone interview. In most cases, the lender does not verify the information.

A pre-approval goes a step further and might include a review of the borrower's financial documents and a review of a credit report. However, most often this is a cursory review, Ward said. The borrower still can't count on a loan commitment.

An approval, on the other hand, is an actual loan commitment, in writing. It states that an underwriter has examined and verified a borrower's information and will issue a loan for a specified amount.

"Unlike a pre-qualifications or pre-approval, there are no 'subject to's' with a bonafide approval," Ward said. "The borrower has satisfied the requirements of the lender, and any other conditions for issuing the loan, such as title search or appraisal, are solely the lender's responsibility. The borrower just needs to go out and find a home."

So, why is a bonafide approval better than a pre-qualification or a pre-approval?

For one, a homebuyer with a firm loan commitment is the equivalent of a "cash buyer." According to Ward, cash buyers are considered stronger buyers and enjoy several advantages over other buyers.

Another significant advantage is improved negotiating power. According to the National Association of REALTORS®, cash buyers negotiate terms that are 5-7 percent better than those for homebuyers whose purchase is subject to a mortgage. This can translate to thousands of dollars in savings for cash buyers.

Homebuyers with a loan commitment also have the ability to act quickly.

"Approved buyers can pounce on a property as soon as they find the right one. Meanwhile, the pre-qualified or pre-approved buyer has to get their financing in order, and that can cost them a shot at their dream home" Ward said.

Besides running the risk of losing out on property, buyers who don't obtain an approval stand to lose far more. That's because a pre-qualification, and even a pre-approval, may not provide a true measure of a person's buying power.

For example, a homebuyer might state bonus or commission income for a pre-qualification that, as it turns out, cannot be counted for an actual loan approval. Or the borrower's credit might prevent them from obtaining a lower interest rate, which would qualify them for a higher loan amount.

"What winds up happening is that homebuyers get pre-qualified for one amount, make a purchase based on that amount, but then can't get a mortgage for that amount. Those buyers either lose the property or worse, lose their earnest money," said Ward.

"With today's technology, there's really no reason for borrowers to forego a bonafide approval. Most homebuyers can obtain a non-conditional mortgage commitment within 24 hours," Ward noted.

To expedite the loan approval process, he recommended meeting with a mortgage consultant in person and coming prepared with the necessary documentation. This includes: tax returns from the last two years, pay stubs from the last 30 days, and three months of account statements at banks or brokerages. Renters can speed up the process by providing their 12 most recent canceled rent checks.

"In the end, if you don't have a mortgage commitment in hand, you shouldn't sign a real estate contract. Most lenders won't tell you this because most lenders use pre-qualification as a marketing tool. But that's all it is. It has no legal standing," Ward said.

With offices in Mundelein, Rolling Meadows, Naperville and Kenosha, Wis., Majestic Mortgage Corp. has financed more than $1.6 billion in mortgages since 1987.

County Sheriff announces results of safety checks

Lake County Sheriff Gary Del Re announced the results of the traffic safety checks that were conducted during the Fourth of July holiday period. The safety checks were initiated at pre-designated areas throughout the county on June 29, June 30 and July 2.

On June 29, officers from the Round Lake Park/Hainesville Police Department, the Illinois State Police and the Lake County Sheriff's Office worked together at a safety checkpoint at Rte. 120 and Rte. 134 in Hainesville. A total of 320 vehicles were diverted into the safety check resulting in the issuance of 114 traffic citations, including four for DUI, and four narcotics arrests.

On June 30, officers from the Grayslake Police Department, the Illinois State Police and the Lake County Sheriff's office worked together at a safety checkpoint at Rte. 120 and Lake St. in Grayslake. A total of 354 vehicles were diverted into the safety checkpoint resulting in the issuance of 80 traffic citations, including five for DUI.

On July 2, officers from the Illinois State Police and the Lake County Sheriff's office worked together at a safety checkpoint at Lewis Ave. and Wadsworth Rd. in Beach Park. A total of 202 vehicles were diverted into the safety checkpoint resulting in the issuance of 124 traffic citations, including four for DUI, and eight narcotics arrests.

According to Sheriff Del Re, citizens should expect to see similar joint law enforcement ventures in the future, particularly during peak traffic times. "Operations such as these represent our on-going efforts and commitments to ensure the safety of all who use the public roadways in Lake County.

"Funding for these roadside safety check was provided by a grant from the United States Department of Transportation/National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. The grant was administered through the Illinois Department of Transportation "Stayin' Alive" Traffic Safety Task Force.

Lake County Board committee approved 2001-2006 highway improvement program

The Lake County Division of Transportation released its plan for maintenance and improvements to the county highways system over the next five years. The plan was presented to the Lake County Board's Public Works and Transportation Committee, which unanimously approved the $165 million program.

Lake County's 2001-2006 Highway Improvement Program divides programs into three major categories. System preservation projects, which are projects designed to keep county highways in good condition. System modernization projects reduce traffic bottlenecks and system expansion to meet growth demands.

"Lake County is falling behind in the ability to mitigate congestion. As growth and development occur in the county, travel increases on county highways. Road improvements needed to increase capacity for growth have not kept pace. The roads and schools cannot keep up with the municipal growth in the county, which accounts for 92 percent of development approved. The result has been a growing backlog of congested two-lane county roads," according to Lake County board member and Public Works and Transportation Committee Chair Diana O'Kelly.

As a result of worsening congestion on county highways, the Lake County Division of transportation made the largest funding allocation to system expansion projects in the 2001-2006 Highway Improvement Program. System expansion projects account for 44 percent of the program, while system preservation projects comprise another 37 percent. System modernization projects make-up the remaining 19 percent of the program's projects.

The Lake County Board made improving the county transportation system one of its highest priorities.

"The County Board recognizes that additional funding is needed beyond this $165 million program and we've sought authority for a referendum asking voters for a 1/4 percent sales tax increase. We're hopeful that the Illinois General Assembly will grant us that authority in its fall veto session," said Lake County Board Chair Suzi Schmidt.

Among the projects desired by the Lake County Board and outlined in the Division of Transportation's Highway Improvement Program are projects to: improve traffic flow, improve the quality of county roads, develop viable transportation options, improve coordination on roads and highways with legislators the Illinois Department of Transportation and municipalities and develop regional bike path systems.

Farm Bureau sponsors educators field trip

The Lake County Farm Bureau is sponsoring the "Fifth annual Educator Field Trip" for teachers in Lake County.

The trip will be held July 9-12 and will run from approximately 8 a.m.-5 p.m. each day. Participants will have an opportunity to visit the Chicago Board of Trade, Temple Farms, Deans Foods, Arlington Park Race Track, O'Hare Airport Agriculture Inspection, Didier Farms, Temple Farms, Hawthorn Gardens, a large hog farm and many other agribusiness locations in Cook, Lake and McHenry County.

The trip will allow teachers to see agriculture and agribusiness locations highlighting the process of bringing food from "farm gate to dinner plate."

The trip is being sponsored by the Lake County Farm Bureau, McHenry County Farm Bureau, Illinois Park Producers, Illinois Beef Association and the Illinois Landscape Contractors Association.

As in past years, teachers can earn two hours of graduate credit from the University of Illinois by attending the trip all four days along with credit within their district.

Household items high on A Safe Place's Wish list

The next time you assemble your arsenal of cleaning products to tidy up your home, just imagine what it takes to keep up a household of 35. From dishwashing liquid to soap scum removers, the volume of cleaning supplies needed by A Safe Place/Lake County Crisis Center is considerable.

"Since our residential facility is always at capacity (35 women and children), the upkeep process is pretty constant," notes Phyllis DeMott, executive director. "Last year A Safe Place provided more than 12,200 nights of emergency shelter to survivors of domestic violence and their children. That translates into hundreds of loads of laundry, thousands of dishes washed, and I can't even estimate how many bathtub rings scrubbed."

Currently the Waukegan-based shelter has placed powdered laundry soap, dishwashing liquid, tall kitchen garbage bags, and lawn and leaf-sized garbage bags at the top of its Wish List. If you are able to contribute any of the above items, call A Safe Place at 249-5147.

A Safe Place is the only comprehensive program for survivors of domestic violence serving residents of Lake, McHenry and northern Cook counties. In addition to shelter services, A Safe Place offers individual and group counseling, children's counseling, court advocacy, and abuser treatment programs. A 24-hour HELP LINE can be reached by calling 249-4450; TTY 249-6557. There are no fees for victim services.

BEARS CARE supports A Safe Place

The Chicago Bears and Bears Care have awarded a $5,000 grant to A Safe Place/Lake County Crisis Center. The grant will help support the shelter, counseling services, and 24-hour HELP LINE programs of the non-profit agency dedicated to survivors of domestic violence and their children.

"Bears Care is proud to be associated with A Safe Place," Bears Care President Nancy R. McCaskey said, in awarding the grant. "The tremendous support you provide to women and children in this difficult time will make an invaluable difference in their lives. We understand the importance of your work and wish you continued success."

The funds awarded to A Safe Place were realized from the 2000 Chicago Bears & Aon Hunt for Food and Shelter, cosponsored by Sears, American National Bank and Mars 2112.

A Safe Place provided more than 12,200 nights of shelter last year to residents of Lake, McHenry and northern Cook counties. Staff and trained volunteers answered more than 3,800 calls to the 24-hour HELP LINE in the same period. Nearly 3,500 persons participated in individual, group or children's counseling services. There are no fees for victim services.

Midwestern in one of nation's 15 'friendliest' hospitals

National magazine tabs Zion facility for short list

There are more than 7,000 hospitals in the United States, with only a relative handful that make patient empowerment a cornerstone of their treatment protocols. Modern Maturity magazine, billed on its website as America's largest circulation magazine, selected one of Lake County's very own when writing a feature article on America's friendliest hospitals for the July/August issue of the magazine.

Cancer Treatment Centers of America at Midwestern Regional Medical Center in Zion has chosen by the AARP publication as one of the 15 friendliest hospitals in country in an article titled "Hospitals with Heart." The four criteria for the list, as summed up in the opening paragraphs of the article, are to "treat everyone with dignity; share unbiased information with patients and their families; strengthen patients' sense of control; and collaborate with patients, families, and the broader community in deciding how the hospital looks and functions."

Rather than a stark antiseptic environment, Midwestern is adorned more like a hotel, featuring wallpaper, paintings and hardwood floors in most patient rooms. Hallways are also carpeted, wall-papered and display works of art. The award-winning food service tailors meals to specific patient needs or requests. The 95-bed facility also features cancer treatment technology generally only found in much larger institutions such as advanced radiation equipment, an expanded laboratory and a nine-bed bone marrow transplant unit.

Midwestern President and CEO Roger Cary was pleased to hear of the magazine's choice, but was not surprised since a cornerstone of the hospital's integrated medicine philosophy is treating the patient like a member of the family.

"We hear all the time from cancer patients who come here from around the globe that Midwestern is special—like no other place they've ever been. There are a lot of competent hospitals out there but this article is one more affirmation that Midwestern is a haven for patients who just found something missing in their treatment elsewhere," Cary said.

The fundamental difference in Midwestern's approach to patient care is known as the "mother standard." When hospital Chairman of the Board and owner Richard J. Stephenson's mother was stricken with cancer three decades ago, his family was not only dismayed at the lack of technological advancements in treatment options, but shocked at the way his mother was treated personally by the institutions from which she sought care.

When Stephenson purchased what is now known as Midwestern Regional Medical Center in 1975, he immediately set a goal to seek out the most technologically advanced cancer treatment options available coupled with nutrition, natural medicine, exercise, mind/body medicine and spiritual care. He also set an irrefutable standard with his hospital staff—to treat every patient like a member of their own family.

"Today more than ever, the mother standard is part of the vernacular at the hospital. We are getting a lot of notice for it across the country and that is why Modern Maturity heard from our peers that our hospital should be considered for this top-notch list of patient empowerment providers," Cary said.

The current edition of the magazine can be found online at www.modernmaturity.aarp.org.

Founded in 1988, Cancer Treatment Centers of America (CTCA) manages cancer hospitals, oncology practices and outpatient hospital-based cancer programs that employ a comprehensive, integrated approach to traditional cancer treatment to empower patients to fight their cancer while maintaining a high quality of life. In addition to medically advanced cancer treatments such as surgery, radiation and chemotherapy, CTCA offers complementary treatments, including naturopathy, therapeutic nutrition, psychological and spiritual support, and oncology rehabilitation. CTCA programs and facilities are accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations, The American College of Surgeons, and the American College of Pathology, among others. CTCA's Midwestern Regional is the only hospital in Illinois to receive back-to-back accreditation with commendation by JCAHO.

CTCA supports progressive cancer research through its affiliation with the Cancer Treatment Research Foundation, a nonprofit organization. CTCA serves cancer patients worldwide primarily at its hospitals in Zion, Illinois and Tulsa, Oklahoma. Other facilities are located in Goshen, Indiana; Portsmouth, Virginia; and Seattle, Washington. ## Rains postpone Wilmot racing

The monsoon rains June 7 left standing water throughout the facility, forcing Wilmot Speedway management to cancel the Bumper to Bumper IRA Sprint program. With temperatures hovering around 90 degrees and a humidity of 85 percent, Mother Nature wasn't providing much help in the drying process. Despite the lack of rain in most areas the speedway seemed to be the target area as the heavy overcast skies supplied nearly continuous rain showers during the morning and into the early afternoon.

"This is extremely disappointing for us but the entire back straightaway had between 1 and 2 inches of water standing on it and the corners were so soft our equipment was leaving 18-inch ruts when we tried to work the track," said Promoter Andy Calin Promoter. "We tried everything we could to pack, move or force the water into or off the track. There simply was nowhere for it to go. Our first and foremost concern is for the safety of the drivers and therefore we had no choice but to call the event."

Speedway officials are reviewing options for rescheduling the event to another date later in the year and an announcement will be made when the decision is made.

A full racing lineup is slated for July 14 with doors opening at 6 p.m. and racing commencing at 7. WWF Monster Trucks The 'Rock' and 'Austin 3:16' are scheduled. Also planned are trailer races, rollovers and 'Pontiac Plunge' with death defying car stunts.

Special note: Mundelein's Tonis Kasemets won both rounds of the U.S. F-2000 races at Road America in Elkart Lake, Wis. on July 8. The events were a part of the Grand American Road Racing Road America 500 weekend. The wins for Kasemets were his third and fourth of the season. MK Industries are Kasemets' main sponsor.

On the mound to combine for the win were J. Ryan and P. Lesniewski.

In game two against the Cougars, the Jr. Bulldogs would not fare as well by dropping the nightcap in a heart-breaking 8-7 loss. Just as in the opener, the game went back-and-forth with the Cougars getting on the board with two runs in the first inning while adding two more in the second. Wauconda got on the board in the third with four runs on hits by Lesniewski and Miller. Bierman then punched a two-run single, followed by RBI hits by B. Mottashed and Mascheri. The Cougars would go up 6-4 in the bottom half of the third. The Jr. Bulldogs added a run but it wasn't enough. Offensively leaders included: Jackson went 3-for-3 with a run scored and three stolen bases; Lesniewski 2-for-3 with a double, run scored and a stolen base; Ryan 2-for-3 with a run scored and four stolen bases; Williams 2-for-3 with a run scored and two stolen bases; and, Miller 2-for-3 with two runs scored and two stolen bases.

WBLHA offers warm-up ice time

Warren Blue Line Hockey Association (WBLHA) is hosting summer warm-up ice at Gurnee Mills' Rink Side Sports for all high school-aged hockey players, boys or girls, in the Lake County area. Players must show proof of USA Hockey Insurance, or pay a $25 fee to sign up for coverage.

Available dates include Thursdays, July 19 and 26, and August 2, 16 and 23 from 7:45-9:15 p.m. The cost is $10 per 90-minute session or $40 the first evening for five sessions.

Sessions will be supervised on ice by Dave Mackey, head coach of Warren Hockey as well as other Warren Blue Devil coaches.

WBLHA has also announced it is looking for an assistant JV coach for the upcoming 2001-02 season along with a goalie coach on a per session basis. Both are paid positions.

Warren High is entering its third season playing in the Metro Central High School League. Practices and home games are held at Rink Side Sports. The season runs from late August through February. Mackey, a former Chicago Blackhawk and Chicago Wolves player, is the head coach of the Devils.

Interested candidates should contact WBLHA President Keith Owens at 336-0027 or 921-9917. Interested candidates can also fax information to WBLHA at 623-4225.

The Resume Process is as Important as the Resume

By Scott T. Fleischmann

Once you have decided to find a different job, and you have done all of the preliminary preparation, you will start to send resumes to people who can make decisions about hiring you. Have you ever wondered if your resume will get read, or if it will be tossed before anyone sees it? In actuality, not all resumes get to the right people, and as you may have guessed, not all resumes are read.

In order to improve your chances of getting your resume read the process is important. The goal of a resume is to give the reader (usually a recruiter) enough information to want an interview with you. Most often the first interview is conducted over the phone. If you are getting calls about your resume, you can be relatively sure that your resume is well prepared and that it is being read. If you are not getting as many calls as you would like, chances are that your resume is not as effective as it could be, or the process you are using for sending out resumes should be modified.

Here are some steps that I recommend as a part of the process.

Identify why you want to find a different job. If the primary reason has to do with a problem at your current employer, can that be resolved? Can you talk to your manager or to someone in the human resources department to change the situation? If you are getting positive feedback about your work, and you like your job except for one or two issues, you may be better off resolving the issue and staying with your current employer.

If possible keep your current job until you have accepted your next job. Recruiters view people who are currently employed as more desirable than those who are unemployed and they will often call those people first.

Let everyone that you trust know that you are looking for a job. Tell them what you are looking for in your next job, and make sure that they know that you do not want your current employer to know about this job search. Ask them if they know of anyone who is looking for someone with your skills.

When you send out a resume send it to a specific person, using their name. Here are several ways to get that information. If a friend suggests a company that may be looking for someone with your skills, ask them if they know whom to contact. If an advertisement does not have a name call the company to ask for the name of a recruiter or for the name of the person who manages the department you will be working in.

Call the recruiter or department manager to let them know that you understand that they may have a need now or at sometime in the future and that you believe that your skills are a good match for their needs. Keep the discussion short unless they start to ask you about your skills. Their time is valuable.

After you have made the contact send them your resume and put "REQUESTED MATERIAL" on the outside of the envelope, in order to remind them of your conversation.

This process should provide better odds that your resume will be read. Next week we will look at some resume format issues.

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Q: I am so aggravated with the traffic out in our area. I was fired from my job last week for being late over the past 3 weeks due to construction. I have to drop off my child at day care in the morning and because it is out of my way, I get hung up in traffic that is unpredictable. I told my boss several times that I could never be sure that the traffic would be like but he would just snicker about it. I am now unemployed and went to fill out forms to collect unemployment compensation, but I was told that I would more than likely be turned down. I need to find a job where my employer has a heart and understands that these things happen. What do you suggest? F.D. - Mundelein

Q: Find an employer that is close to your day care center, or find a day care center that is closer to your employer. Do not blame your employer for the reason you are unemployed... just leave for work earlier. Especially after a three week period of being late for work, one would think that you would have thought to leave yourself time. Even if you arrived for work an hour early, it is better than arriving 2 minutes late for work. The reason that you would more than likely be denied unemployment compensation, is because I am sure you were repeatedly warned about coming to work late. That just breeds problems for employers. When other employees see that you are doing it, it becomes an open invitation in their mind that it is ok to do. The blame should not be placed on the employer, but rather on yourself for not setting your alarm earlier when you know the traffic is a repeated problem. Perhaps you will wish to seek out an employer with flex hours or a large corporation that has an in-house day care center. Good luck.

Note: Nancy Sakol is President and CEO of Superior Personnel, Inc in Gurnee and Vernon Hills.
